Smith Inducted Into York Holstein Hall Of Fame

John T. Smith, retired York extension agent, was inducted to the York County Holstein Hall of Farm. Club president Tom Boyer presented Smith with a plaque honoring his leadership to the association.

York Co. Correspondent

YORK — Retired York County extension agent John T. Smith is the newest inductee into the York County Holstein Hall of Fame.

The Hall of Fame award was made during the York Holstein Association's annual meeting and dinner, hosted October 19 at St. Matthew Lutheran Church. A plaque honoring all Hall of Fame members is displayed at the York Agricultural Extension offices. Hall of Fame recognition is bestowed on individuals whose contributions have been significant to the county's Holstein breed and dairy industry.

Smith, a Juniata County dairy farm son, received his Ag Education degree from Penn State and taught vo-ag, prior to Navy service in 1944. Following military service, he supervised a G.I. training program to educate rural youth while they continued to work on farms.

Smith's extension career began in 1947, as Snyder County's extension agent. Prior to accepting the York position in 1952, he also worked as multi-county agent in Erie-Warren-Crawford counties.

His dairy leadership was prevalent in helping to organize the York County Milk Producers and encouraging dairymen to the technological advances of DHIA testing and artificial insemination for herds. Smith coached 4-H dairy and livestock judging teams earning success at state and national competition, and remained an avid 4-H and youth supporter through and beyond his extension career.

He received the Pennsylvania

Lebanon Holstein Club Honors Junior Members

BY PAT PURCELL

LEBANON — The Lebanon County Holstein Club honored the accomplishments of their junior members at the annual banquet held Tuesday evening at the Zoar's Lutheran Church in Mt. Zion and elected new members for their board of directors.

Phares Musser, David Himmelberger and Barry Donmoyer will leave the board at the end of their expired terms. Elected to the board were Vince Wagner, Nelson Bomgardner and Arthur Sweinhart.

David Vail and Dale Himmelberger, advisors of the junior Holstein club, presented trophies and

Marketing Will Keep Agriculture Pennsylvania's No. 1 Industry

BY LISA RISSER

ALLENTOWN (Lehigh) — Marketing is the key to ensuring that agriculture remains Pennsylvania's top industry into and beyond 1990, according to Boyd Wolff, state Secretary of Agriculture. Wolff spoke at a banquet Tuesday night before several hundred members of the Pennsylvania State Grange during their 116th convention.

"Agricultural strength is vulnerable to changes," stated Wolff. "Good marketing can form the economic bridge between specialized-food producers and consumers."

Because consumer needs are changing and traditional avenues for increasing food sales are narrowing, agricultural producers need to expand their markets by capitalizing on the changes. Some of the facts of which producers should be aware, according to Wolff, are:

•Aging Americans - More than 20 percent of Americans are 55 years of age and older. It is predicted that by 2010 one in four Americans will be older than 55 years, and currently the fastest growing segment of our population is those adults aged 85 years and older.

•Education - Much of the 18- to 20-year-old Head of Household group is composed of college students and females.

•Double-Income Family - An ever-increasing number of double-income families means the need

Future Of Agriculture Demands Changes In Vo-Ag Programs

BY PAT PURCELL

HARRISBURG (Dauphin) — Enrollment in vocational-agriculture programs in high schools throughout the nation has fallen to 5 percent of the student body in rural areas as well as urban areas and while high quality marks some vo-ag programs, there are many which do not meet the basic eduational needs of its students.

These findings come from a national study on the quality of agricultural education in the United States. The study, conducted by the Academy of Natural

Directors Named At Poultry Association Banquet

BY LOU ANN GOOD

LANCASTER — Poultry producers elected three board members for the Lancaster County Poultry Association on Thursday night. The election took place at their annual banquet held at Olde Hickory Inn, Lancaster.

Elected for a three year term were Thomas R. Pantano, Strasburg; Richard E. Landis, Manheim; Kenneth Martin, East Earl; and Barry Renno, Mount Joy.

Robert Zimmerman, president of the Lancaster County Poultry Association, presented scholarships to Alissa Hoober, (center) poultry queen, and to Rebecca Barley, alternate.

Standard Time Returns Tomorrow Morning

Because it's time to turn the clocks back to Standard Time, one farmer said that daylight will come at 6 a.m.instead of 7 a.m. and darkness will come at 5 p.m. instead of 6 p.m. Officially this happens at 2 a.m. on Sunday morning, but many farmers will start to change feeding and milking schedules today. Good farmers ease their livestock into the time change so production is not reduced.

Some Lancaster Farming readers don't change their clocks in this summer ritual. But if you moved your clock ahead last spring, you'll want to move it back an hour when you go to bed tonight. That way you'll be on time Sunday morning.

Mark Slater receives help covering his corn silage after his 16-year-old concrete-staved silo collapsed last Sunday. Slater estimates that the silo contained about 700 tons of silage.

Silo Collapses On Montgomery County Farm

BY LISA RISSER

PERKIOMENVILLE (Montgomery) — Last Sunday morning dairy farmer Mark Slater and his wife, Carol, were rudely awakened by the noise of their 20x70-foot silo collapsing.

"It made a big noise and just fell over," said Carol.

The 16-year-old, concrete-staved silo was only a couple loads short of being filled with corn silage when it fell. "We figured it was about 700 tons of silage," said Carol. The Slaters have covered the exposed silage with plastic in order to minimize spoilage.

The silo fell at approximately 7:20 a.m. after, Slater had finished milking his 90 cows and returned to bed. No one was injured by the fallen silo, although it did crush a tractor and the silo unloader was damaged.

Officials from Lancaster Silo Co. examined the silo, but "it's hard to tell what happened until the silage is cleared away," explained Brain Weaver, vice president for the firm. "The silo's structure itself looked fine, we think maybe it could be the footer, but nothing's definite yet."

Before viewing the silo Weaver thought perhaps the damage could have been from poor maintenance. "Silos need maintenance, especially at this year. People put silage in while it was still green and the silos juiced. The juice can deteriorate the stays and rods if it (the juicing) goes on for years," commented Weaver.

Acres Corn Update

Corn futures recovered today posting gains from 4 to 6-1/4 cents on short covering coupled with ideas that the pit had become oversold. December traded to a low of $2.72-3/4 early in the session with prices improving thereafter as the market was able to hold above the July low of $2.72. Today's close at $2.80-1/2 indicated a key technical reversal and was linked to an improved export outlook with Taiwan in the market.

Acres Soybean Update

Soybeans were higher this afternoon from 6-1/2 to 9-1/2 cents supported by renewed strength in the product and active short covering. In the absence of follow through selling after November took out its July low encouraged buying with added strength coming from news that Taiwan had purchased. Ideas that prices were now becoming more attractive to exporters underpinned. November closed today at $7.68, up 6-1/2 cents after trading to a high of $7.70 shortly before the close.

Acres Wheat Update

Wheat futures closed from 3/4 cent to 5-1/4 cents higher today rebounding from yesterday's steep losses on active short covering attributed to ideas that recent losses were overdone. Further support came from a brighter export outlook and a weaker dollar. News late in the session that Algeria was expected to bid today for 200,000 MT of export bonus underpinned. December closed out the day at $4.12-1/4, up 4-3/4 after touching $4.04-1/2 earlier in the session.

Acres Cattle Update

Live cattle and feeder cattle futures closed lower this afternoon from 30 to 85 points on pressure attributed to sluggish boxed beef movement at lower prices. Ideas that supplies of competitive meats were plentiful set off heavy commercial and commission house selling. Support near the lows was linked to bottom picking and ideas of firmer fed cattle cash prices, while end of the month liquidation and packer pricing of contracted cattle offset. December closed 85 points lower at $73.90.

Acres Hog Update

Live hog futures plunged lower today under pressure of limit declines in the belly pit and ideas that cash markets would continue to soften. Continuing large receipts added to the selling pressure with some spreading featured. Bellies closed limit lower except for the July as long liquidation and weak cash fundamentals coupled with ideas recent gains were overdone pressured. Ideas that slaughter levels will remain high cash a pall on the market.

New York And Philadelphia Frozen Eggs

October 25, 1988

Prices were generally unchanged. Demand was slightly improved and mixed. The best interest was for whole eggs, and both sugar and salt yolks were a bit difficult to move. Floor stocks were adequate. Raw material costs were generally unchanged with some sellers holding shell eggs with a bit more confidence.

National Egg Market

October 26, 1988

NATIONAL EGG MARKET - AT A GLANCE:

Prices were higher on mediums in the Midwest, balance unchanged. The market tone was steady to firm. Demand at all levels was fair to good. Retail specials in all regions enhanced movement. Supplies were adequate to fully adequate on the large sizes and adequate to barely adequate on mediums. Breakers generally paid more for shell eggs, particularly in the Southeast and Midwest as most sellers retained offerings with confidence.

Northeast Chicken Parts

October 26, 1988

Buying interest remained light to fair and generally selective. Cutlets were irregularly available and in slightly better balance; however, the bulk of new business was at lower price levels. Whole breasts, mainly line run, were discounted in a few instances, but the bulk of product was in fairly good balance at unchanged prices. Legs were moving into better balance, mainly due to a good call for leg quarters, which were no more than adequate. Some spot pricing reported on leg quarters for next week's delivery at 29 cents and some with caps of 30 cents for large volumes. Wings continued to build in availability and overall movement had slowed.

Take Your Seat, The Performance Is About To Begin.

You'll applaud the performance of Funk's G-Hybrids like G-4543, G-4626 and G-4446 when the curtain falls at harvest time.

A top choice for shelled grain or ear corn in 110 to 120-day maturity areas, G-4543 produces maximum yields even at lower populations. In Delaware hybrid field corn trials, it topped the field with 148.4 bu./A.

G-4626 has it all in a 115 to 120-day maturity hybrid—fast dry-down, outstanding stay-green, superior standability, excellent plant health and exceptional yields. In Delaware trials, G-4626 produced yields up to 200.9 bu./A.

G-4446 delivers superior late season standability, excellent grain quality and high test weights. A multi-purpose, widely adapted hybrid, G-4446 produced a state record 252.4 bu./A. in the 1986 Pa. Five-Acre Corn Club competition.

Get your ticket to superior performance by contacting your local Hoffman sales representative or our Landisville office. Call toll free 1-800-233-0137. In PA: 1-800-732-0456.

THE OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC

NOV. 7-13, 1988

Cold rains descend and harvest days end.

"Galloping Gertie" suspension bridge collapsed at Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 7, 1940 . . . Election Day Nov. 8 . . . German physicist Wilhelm Roentgen discovered X-rays Nov. 8, 1895 . . . New moon Nov. 9 (Wed.) . . . Fire in Boston's business district destroyed 800 buildings and caused over $75 million damage Nov. 9, 1872 . . . Average length of days for the week 9 hours, 58 minutes . . Veterans Day Nov. 11 (Fri.) . . . We are not punished for our sins, but by them.

Ask the Old Farmer: Have you got a magic formula that will clean older windowpanes that have been exposed to weather? I have tried ammonia, vinegar, and lemon juice to no avail. Will I have to replace the glass? R.P., Santa Rosa, Calif.

Before you get new glass, get some acetone from a paint or hardware store. Use a sponge to rub some on the glass. It dries very quickly, so work fast. After cleaning with this, you may need to wipe the glass again with your regular cleaner.

Home Hints: Even though days are cooler, remember to continue watering newly planted trees and shrubs.

OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

New England: Beginning of week rain and sleet, snow in mountains; midweek sunny and warm; rain at week's end.
Greater New York-New Jersey: Cold wave with light rain, snow north at beginning of week; sunny and warm mid through end of week.
Middle Atlantic Coastal: Cold temperatures and snow through midweek; end of week sunny and mild.
Piedmont & Southeast Coastal: Beginning of week cold with rain, heavy east; mid through end of week sunny and very warm.

OPINION

A Barn Raising Of Commitment

We want to applaud the efforts in New York State to establish a center for Agricultural Medicine and Health at a Bassett Hospital in Cooperstown. While farming has surpassed mining as a hazardous occupation, proper help is often not available in time of need. Medical personnel at the scene of a farm accident are hard pressed to know what to do because of special farm situations.

For example, a farmer got his hand in the corn picker. The medics arrived in time to help but didn't know how to operate the equipment to release the man's hand. They wasted valuable time while they found someone who did know how to operate it.

The New York facility is planned to educate both medics and farmers. Farm related accidents that involve tractor overturns and power-take-off dismemberments receive lots of publicity. But there are other less well known hazards that farmers face each day. Like hearing loss, arthritis, skin cancer, bronchitis and other lung disorders.

The American Lung Association has recognized the breathing hazards of farmers and moved to provide information for the prevention and cure of these diseases. Nine booklets designed as an educational series for ag respiratory hazards are available from your local lung assn. chapter. Produced in cooperation with the extension service of Iowa State University, the subjects include: 1. Agricultural Structures and Respiratory Problems; 2. Dusts from Decayed Grain, Hay, and Silage; 3. Grain Dusts; 4. Livestock Confinement Dusts and Gases; 5. Oxides of Nitrogen (Silo Gas); 6. Applied Agricultural Chemicals; 7. Infectious Diseases; 8. Measurement of Agricultural Dusts and Gases; and 9. Personal Protective Equipment. A series for doctors, nurses and medics is also available.

Dr. David S. Pratt, director of the New York center, recently told journalists that fragmented interest groups will fail to provide quality occupational health services for farmers. But if we join our efforts in combined concern from a unified ag community, we will succeed. "We need a barn raising commitment to a safer, healthier world for farmers, farm workers and their families," Dr. Pratt said.

We believe the new Cooperstown center lays the foundation for that barn raising.

NOW IS THE TIME

To Prevent Pneumonia

As temperature and weather conditions vary considerably from day to day and from hour to hour, precautions need to be taken to prevent pneumonia. Pneumonia causing organisms are normally present in the respiratory tract, but under periods of stress an animal's resistance can be lowered to the point where it can no longer fight off the infection. So, it's important to minimize stress on animals. Keep barns well ventilated, but avoid cold drafts. This may require frequent adjustment of doors and windows, or the proper installation and use of fans. Good ventilation prevents the buildup of stagnant, moist germ-laden air. That's important! Also avoid overcrowding. During inclement and rapidly changing weather conditions, one should also minimize stresses associated with transporting animals, weaning, changing feeds, deworming, vaccinating, etc. When necessary, consult your veterinarian for advice on immunization and treatment.

To Observe Weed Populations

Now that most of the corn is harvested, we can plainly see what weeds failed to be controlled in those fields. We are seeing more of the persistent, hard-to-control weeds appearing in our crop fields during the past 10-12 years. In part, this is because we have changed our farming methods, particularly tillage techniques and we're not using crop rotations in the case of continuous corn.

Bindweeds, horsenettle, hemp dogbane, curly dock, Canada thistle, Johnsongrass, and yes, even woody plants such as brambles and small volunteer trees have appeared in increasing numbers. We need to note the presence of these weeds now and then prepare to deal with them.

When you notice a new weed, have it identified and take appropriate control measures before that weed becomes a menacing problem. If weeds are presently escaping from your control efforts, find out how to change your weed management program.

To Check Stand-By Generators

The winter season brings with it snow and ice storms that can damage and knock out our supply of electricity. Most farmers are badly crippled without electricity so the need for a stand-by generator is recognized. I know that many poultry farms in particular already have this equipment. However if the generator is not in good working condition, it may not do the job in case of emergency. These generators should be run once a week to reassure yourself that it's in good running condition. If it is a tractor hookup type, then take the time to make that connection each week. When the power goes off, you don't have time to run tests of the equipment to make sure it's in proper working order.

To Be Careful With Space Heaters

Colder weather is here and we see many types of heating equipment being used. Most of these are quite acceptable provided they are properly used and vented. In some cases the fumes from the fuel can be the cause of suffocation and personal injury; in other cases they can be a fire hazard. If temporary heaters are used; we suggest that extreme care be used to be certain that they do not make people ill or present a health hazard. Your local fire department officials, or a local plumber, will be able to give additional assistance. Don't take chances with the health of your family or your employees.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W ALTHOUSE

TOWARD A NEW JERUSALEM

October 30, 1988

Background Scripture:
Isaiah 65:8-25.
Devotional Reading:
Zephaniah: 3:14-20.

In my native state of Pennsylvania there is a little town named New Jerusalem. When I last saw it quite a number of years ago, there was nothing special about this town. If its founders thought that they were going to make their town a "New Jerusalem" in the biblical sense, they most certainly were eventually disappointed.

Actually, that's what happens with most of us. We live in hope of a new world, and from time to time it seems we are well on our way--only to eventually find crushing disappointment and disillusionment. Every age has known that experience. In the early part of this century, assured that we had fought "the War to end all wars" and thrilled with the rapid advance of science, we prophesied a modern age when all our greatest problems would eventually be overcome--then came World War II and our optimism was shattered. Following the war, however, we once again saw the near future as the fulfillment of all our dreams for a better world. But today, although the science and technology promise us even more than ever, we are fearful of what is ahead: the possibility of nuclear or ecological extinction, the sterility of technological environments, the mushrooming drug culture, and so on.

ARMAGEDDON?

So the New Jerusalem seems further away, not closer. Some even believe it is Armageddon, not a New Jerusalem toward which we are moving. Last evening a friend commented to me, "Isn't it strange that with all the technological improvements of the past few decades, it is more of a chore to travel today than it was." It's as if with every technological step forward, we've taken one or more human steps backward. In fact, that seems to be true of much of life and Isaiah's words seem particularly applicable to our own times; "Behold, my servants shall eat, but you shall be hungry; behold, my servants shall drink, but you shall be thirsty; ...shall rejoice, but you shall be put to shame; ...shall sing for gladness of heart, but you shall cry out for pain of heart, and shall wail for anguish of spirit" (65:13,14a).

SELF-INFLICTED WOUNDS

According to pollsters, the prevailing attitude of the majority of young people today is essentially pessemistic about the world and the future. Many, we are told, believe they may die in a nuclear holocaust. Others believe that, by the time they "inherit the earth," it may be dying of wounds inflicted by the human race.

Yet, for all that pessimism-- or is it realism? --about the state of human society, we need to realize that our hope for a New Jerusalem has never depended upon the perfect-ability of human society, but upon the grace of God. We keep before us the vision of a New Jerusalem, not because we are about to take its gates by storm, but because, despite our eternal delay in reaching it, it is God's promise. "For behold I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former things shall not be remembered or come to mind. But be glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create" (65:17,18).

Left to our own devices, we will never build the New Jerusalem. But responsive to God's will, the human race can still eventually experience the "new heavens" and the "new earth" he has promised us.

ARRIVAL SURVIVAL

MoorMan's Beef Cattle Boost Medicated

They're right off the truck, probably off feed and vulnerable to sickness

Getting those calves eating and gaining again is the key to your profitability and maybe their survival A simple, economical way to do it is with MoorMan's Adjustment Program

Just add 1 lb per head daily of Beef Cattle Boost® to your own forage and grain Feed it for 28 days after arrival It's highly palatable and easily digested by stressed calves So they eat more feed which helps increase gain and reduce sickness

Beef Cattle Boost contains Aureo S 700* which aids in the maintenance of weight gain in the presence of respiratory disease such as shipping fever

Ask your MoorMan Representative about Beef Cattle Boost It's the easiest way to help your calves survive and thrive

BRING OUT THE BEAUTY IN YOUR BEAST.

WITH PRO:LEAN PIG STARTER PLUS. It has more of everything weaned pigs need for superior health and appearance. More, in fact, than its popular predecessor Pro:Lean Pig Starter Pellets

—Higher energy and quality protein in each bite for faster growth
—More milk nutrients for more weight gain per pound of feed consumed.
—More vitamins and minerals, including the maximum allowable selenium level.

And it's pelleted, so they eat more, gain more, waste less and use less per pound of gain
For better looking pigs and profits, ask for Pig Starter Plus at your local Agway store or from your Agway Salesperson.

Chore-Time's ULTRAFLO® feeder can free you from your chains

We have probably been too modest up to now about the merits of our new generation ULTRAFLO® cage feeder vs. the old style chain feeders some of our competitors are still trying to sell you. In fact, the only negative comments about our feeder come from our competition, not our customers. So we would like to point out the bare facts:

FEED SAVINGS: On-farm results show a feed savings of ½ lb. per 100 birds per day – over $10,000 per year savings on a 100,000-bird house. Year after year.

TROUBLE-FREE DESIGN: Our feeder has only two moving parts – the one-piece auger plus each drive wheel; their chain has more. Our corners are heavy 12 ga. zinc plated tubing for long life; their corners have a reputation for trouble and short life.

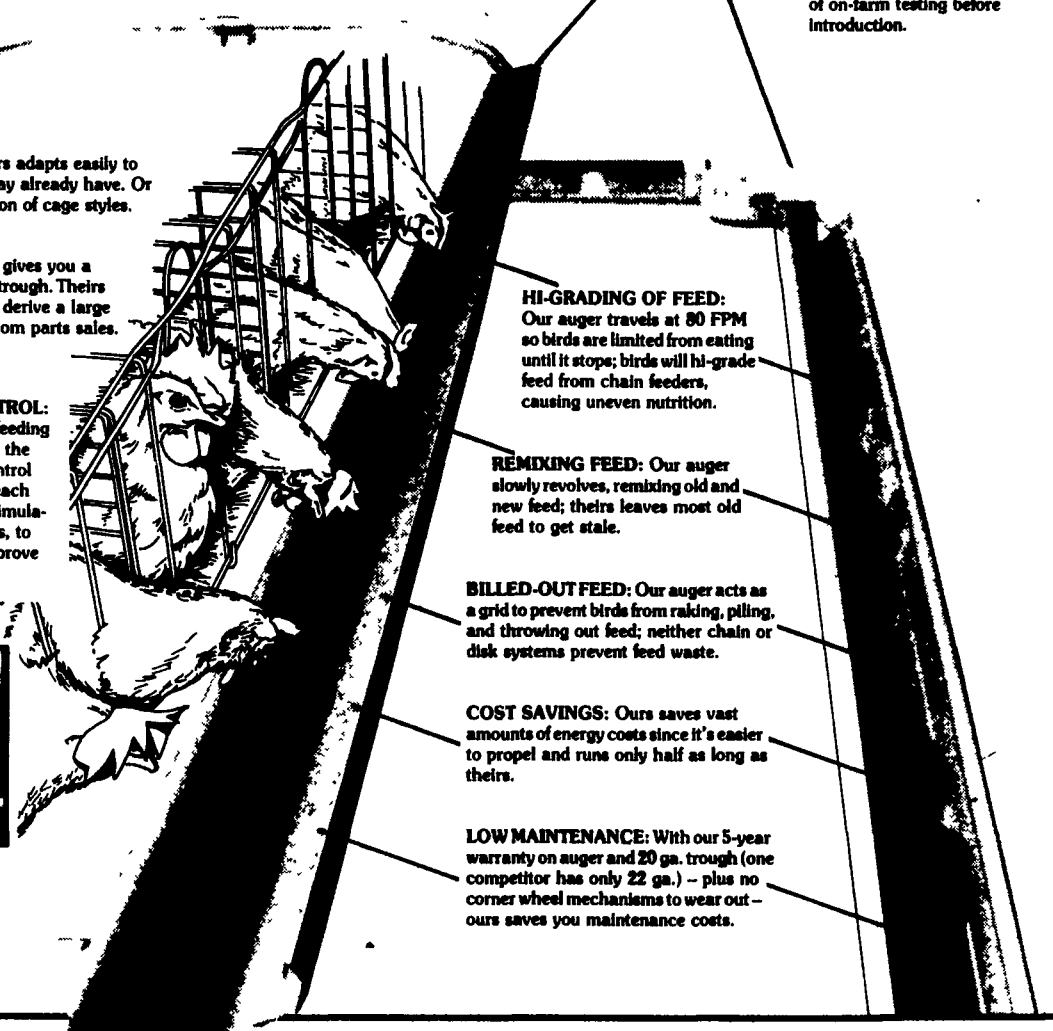
PROVEN DESIGN: Over 10 million birds are already on our feeder worldwide. Also, it was proven in 5 years of on-farm testing before introduction.

EASY ADAPTABILITY: Ours adapts easily to existing cage systems you may already have. Or choose from our wide selection of cage styles.

5-YEAR WARRANTY: Ours gives you a 5-year warranty on auger and trough. Theirs doesn't. In fact, their dealers derive a large percentage of their income from parts sales. Ours don't.

MICROPROCESSOR CONTROL: Our control lets you program feeding time to the second, to match the exact time of one circuit. Control number of feedings, time of each feeding – also 10-second "Stimulation Cycles" between feedings, to minimize separation, and improve your birds' feed intake.

SIMPLE OPERATION: "Push-pull" Power Units with ⅓ or ½ HP motor are located in a cage, have hardened steel gears for trouble-free operation.



HI-GRADING OF FEED: Our auger travels at 80 FPM so birds are limited from eating until it stops; birds will hi-grade feed from chain feeders, causing uneven nutrition.

REMIXING FEED: Our auger slowly revolves, remixing old and new feed; theirs leaves most old feed to get stale.

BILLED-OUT FEED: Our auger acts as a grid to prevent birds from raking, piling, and throwing out feed; neither chain or disk systems prevent feed waste.

COST SAVINGS: Ours saves vast amounts of energy costs since it's easier to propel and runs only half as long as theirs.

LOW MAINTENANCE: With our 5-year warranty on auger and 20 ga. trough (one competitor has only 22 ga.) – plus no corner wheel mechanisms to wear out – ours saves you maintenance costs.

for more convenience food. Statisticians expect there to be 62 percent more double-income families by 1990.

•Ethnic Groups - By 1990, a quarter of our population will be composed of Blacks and Hispanics. These groups will bring their cultures and traditional foods and require specific products.

•Eating Out - There is an increasing number of meals being eaten in restaurants and ordered as carry-out. By 1990, one of four meals will be prepared out of the home.

•Male Shoppers - Forty percent of the dollars being spent on groceries are paid by men.

•Convenience - Ready-to-eat meals taken straight from the stores are increasing in popularity as are microwaves. Experts estimate that 75 percent of American households have a microwave. Some believe that by 2000 there will be microwaves in cars. These trends mean a change in packaging and food processing.

•Snacking, Grazing - These are eating terms that have become part of our language and are habits that are here to stay. It is estimated that 80 percent of people eat while driving to and from work.

"Developing marketing (programs) based on facts like these will be the only way to suceed in the future," predicted Wolff.

Awards presentation

The Grange presented its Granger of the Year Award to Thomas S. Beitel, the immediate past Master of the Auburn Grange in Schuylkill County. Beitel joined his local Grange in 1982 and after three years became Master. Helping to present the award was William Ringler, the state Grange Master and recipient of the first Granger of the Year Award 19 years ago.

Officers elected

Earlier in the day Grange members voted in a new slate of officers. William Ringler, who recently assumed leadership duties as the state Grange Master, was elected to a two-year term as Master. Ringler, a farmer from Somerset County, owns a 180-acre farm with his son James that produces beef cattle, potatoes, and forage crops, and milks dairy cows.

The other state Grange officers are William Buffington, overseer; Hedy Chaffee, lecturer; William Vernam, steward; Steven Mohn, assistant steward; Martha Ebersole, lady assistant steward; Paul Britcher, chaplain; Gerald Slick, treasurer; John Drake, secretary; Stan Gruber, Gatekeeper; Elinor Wilson, Ceres; Betsy Huber, Pomona; Ruth Osborne, Flora.

In addition, Charles E. Wismer, former state Grange Master, was elected to the executive committee.

Rabbit Fever No Problem In Pennsylvania Cottontails

BY DAVID C. KRADEL, DVM
Associate Professor,
Extension Veterinarian
Penn State

During rabbit season some cottontail rabbits will be harvested that have "spots" on their livers. Hunters have come to believe that these spots" mean the rabbit has rabbit fever or tularemia - a disease that could infect the hunter if the tissues were handled. Although very tiny spots on the liver could be indicative of rabbit fever (tularemia), the disease is not known to be present in Pennsylvania rabbits. Also the Pennsylvania Department of Health has no record of reported tularemia in people during the past 5 years.

Most of the "spots" that are observed in cottontail rabbit livers result from the presence in the rabbit of the immature (larval) form of adult tapeworms found in the intestinal tract of dogs, cats and foxes. The rabbit becomes infected by eating plants contaminated with carnivore feces containing tapeworm eggs. In the rabbit these larval forms look like small fluid containing sacs or cysts. They are most commonly present on the liver, in the abdominal cavity and around the rectum. These tapeworm cysts are harmless to people but if the rabbit is eaten by a dog, cat, or fox tapeworms will develop in their intestinal tract. Some types of flukes (another type of parasite) will also cause white streaks in the rabbit's liver. In domestic rabbits another parasite - coccidiosis can also cause white spots containing a creamy white material. We have not seen liver coccidiosis in the cottontail.

If abnormal livers are seen they can be presented to one of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture supported mammalian Diagnostic laboratories for a specific diagnosis. Diagnostic laboratories are located at Summerdale 717/787-8808, Penn State 814/863-0837 and Tunkhannock 717/836-2181.

Although none of the above parasites are harmful to people, all meat from wild animals should be well-cooked before eating.

Northeast Greenhouse Seminar Planned

WILKES BARRE (Luzerne) — The Northeast Greenhouse Seminar will be held Tuesday, November 8, 1988, at the Luzerne County Community College Conference Center starting with registration at 9:00 a.m., according to Extension Agent Al Skala.

Speakers will be Drs. Paul Heller and Dennis Wolnick both of Penn State University; Dr. Raymond Sheldrake, Grace Co.; Jim Harkins, Penn State Seed Co.; Rob Dillon, Dillon's Greenhouse; and Jim Garrahan, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

This meeting is also for pesticide recertification credits.

Thanks and Praise Dished Out At Lancaster 4-H Dairy Banquet

BY PAT PURCELL

QUARRYVILLE (Lancaster) — The Lancaster County 4-H dairy show season drew to a close for many of its members as they received praise and awards at their annual banquet held at Solanco Fair building last week.

The accomplishments of so many young people met with much deserved applause, but without the generous support of sponsors and guidance from leaders and advisors the 4-H would not hold the opportunity that it does today.

Milton Brubaker of Lititz, Elvin Hess of Strasburg and Kenneth Eshleman of Manheim were honored for over 25 years of service. Also honored for service were: Gary Akers of Quarryville; Robert Kindig, Conestoga; Dale Hershey, Paradise; Richard Hess, Strasburg; Robert L. Kauffman, Jr., Peach Bottom; Joe Wivell of Columbia; George Bard, Conestoga; Robert Wenger, Quarryville; Dale Olver, Lancaster; Alfred Wanner, Narvon; George Campbell, Ronks; Tom Arrowsmith, Peach BOttom.

Those leaders who are retiring from service are Elam Bollinger, Manheim, 25 years; Peter Witmer, Willow Street, 13 years; Donald Trimble, Peach Bottom, 11 years; William Arrowsmith, Peach Bottom, 8 years; Gerald Garber, Willow Street, 5 years.

The Lancaster County 4-H Dairy Bowl team placed first at Penn State, second in the nation and will be competing in the national Contest at Louisville, Ky. next week. Dale Olver, sire analyst, and George Bard coached the team to coming very close to winning the national contest which was held in San Diego, California this year. Dairy bowl team members are Robert Barley, Conestoga; Eugene Hess, Marietta, Matthew Wanner, Narvon and Tom Wiker, Holtwood.

The Dairy Judging team placed second in the state competition with solid performances by team members. Tom McCauley of Elizabethtown placed fifth in the state; Tom Barley of Conestoga, eighth and Tom Wiker of Holtwood, 12th and Denise Mills of Lancaster also competed. Sponsor of the Dairy Judging team was Farmshine.

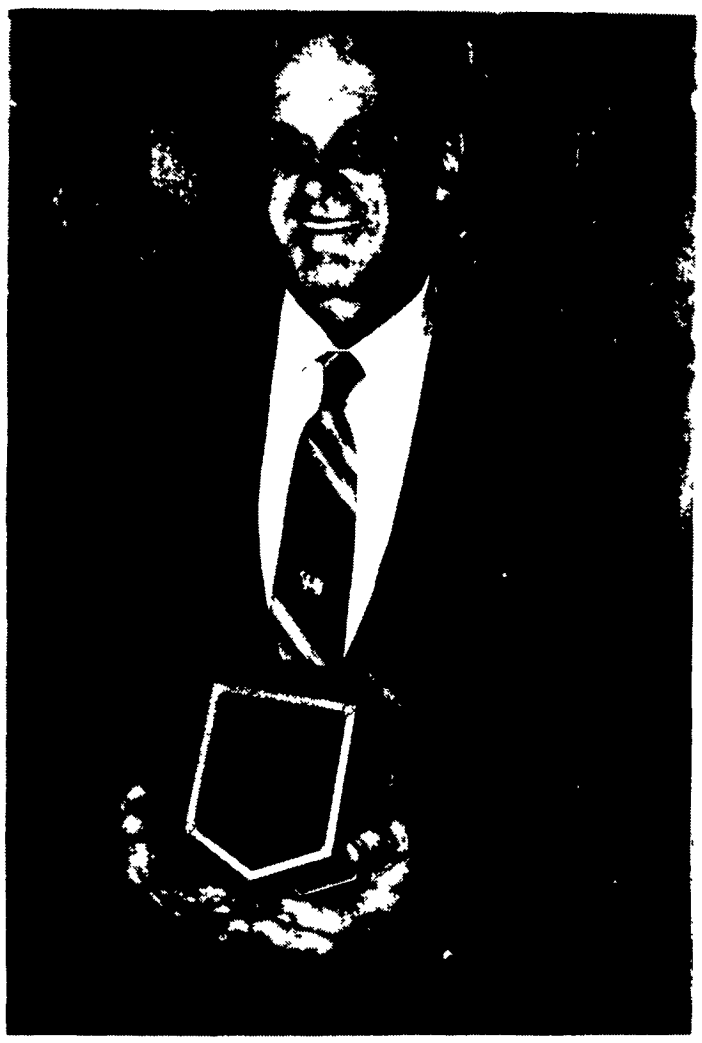
Matthew Wanner, Tom Wiker and Eugene Hess and Bob Barley (not pictured) placed first in the state, second in the nation and will be representing Pennsylvania in Louisville, Ky. next week in 4-H Dairy Bowl competition.



Elam Bollinger of Manheim was honored for 25 years of service.

Thomas Barley, President of the 4-H Holstein Club, delivered a special thanks to Scott Osborne of Atlantic Breeders for his help with the shows. Atlantic Breeders announce the shows, provide show hats, provide public address system and award show halters to the champion first year showman.

Receiving awards were: Dana Clark, Lititz, Ayrshire senior champion; Steven Wagner, Quarryville, Brown Swiss senior champion; Guernsey junior champion; Matthew Welk, Peach Bottom, Holstein junior champion; Timothy Ulrich, Quarryville, Jersey junior champion. Sponsoring the 4-H junior and senior champions were: Hamilton Bank, Ross H. Rohrer and Sons, Inc.; West Willow Farmers Assoc., Inc., Lancaster County Holstein Club and American Breeders Service.

Matthew Wanner of the Pequea Valley 4-H Dairy Club presented the breed champion awards to Angela Spickler of Mount Joy, Ayrshire; Thomas Zartman, Ephrata, Brown Swiss; Steven Wagner, Quarryville, Guernsey; Justin Howes, Elizabethtown, Holstein; Helen Arrowsmith, Peach Bottom, Jersey. Sponsors of the county 4-H breed champions: Hamilton Bank, Earl Umble of Youngs, Inc.; Lancaster County Guernsey Club; Lancaster County Holstein Club and Ivomec-TBZ.

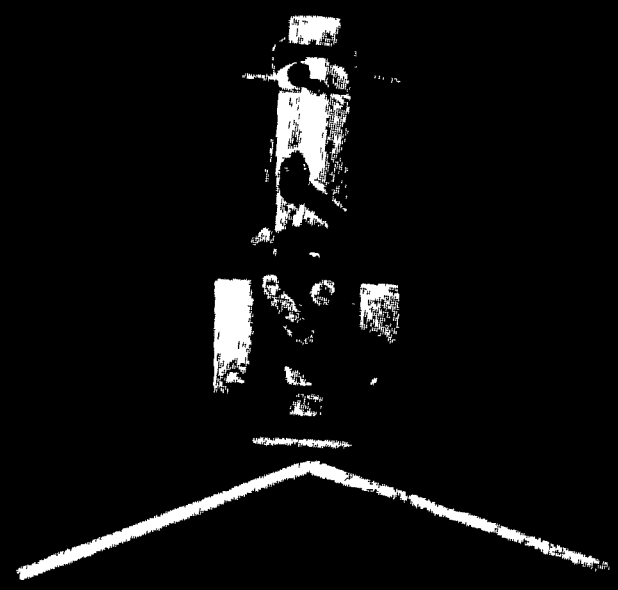
Farm Credit Is Plowing New Ground.



There's something satisfying about that morning when the winter wait's over and you start breaking ground for a new growing season.

At Farm Credit, we know the feeling. Because we're owned and controlled by farmers. And because we've just finished the groundwork to make our services faster. More economical. And more responsive to you than ever before.

We're adding the business technology to cut paperwork. And we're expanding our services, so you can come to us for all your farm loans. Loans to buy acreage or build on it. Production loans for seed and fertilizer. Equipment loans for new machinery. And our people will be there for you season after season, plowdown to harvest. People who understand farming from the ground up.

Our changes aren't earth-shaking. They're sir ply ways to set up the best possible conditions for growth.

And whether it's done with a plan or a plow, that's what breaking new ground is all about.

FARM CREDIT. A Bank Of Local Farmers.SM

Smith Inducted

Cooperative Extension's first-ever special honor for outstanding leadership in 1978, and is the recipient of numerous dairy and agriculture honors. Since his retirement from extension in 1983, Smith has taken an active role in the York Agricultural Society, which oversees year-round activities at the York Fairgrounds.

National Holstein Association director John Cope, Grantham, reviewed activities of the association's financial committee, which he heads as chairman.

Holstein Association income is up seven percent over last year, says Cope, while expenses are up just slightly over three percent, resulting in a positive financial position. Year-to-date operating income is over $1.3 million, with investment income at $530,000. Export Enhancement program activities have put the Holstein Friesian Services subsidiary in a net worth position of $200,000, with past debts repaid to the parent association.

Registrations are up, with a projected total new registries of 390,000 to 400,000 for 1988, Cope added. Pedigree sales are up as well. Classification signups have dropped, but total cattle numbers are higher.

Cope noted the Holstein Association's concern over animal rights issues, reviewing a Massachusetts referendum on farm animal treatment. If passed, the referendum will establish a ten-member board, including only one farmer, to advise on such farm animal issues as animal housing, animal nutrition, veterinary and drug treatment, and farm animal facilities costing over $10,000.

State director Leroy Bupp announced a study by the Pennsylvania Holstein Association on feasibility and cost of a cattle sale-show facility at Penn State. Interest for the next three years on $50,000 of investments from exports are earmarked toward the youth scholarship fund.

Junior members were reminded that Distinguished Junior Member forms, and milk and fat award applications are now due to the state association.

Three directors were elected to three-year terms on the county Holstein board. New directors are Scott Cooper, Delta, Ron Fetrow, York, and Leroy Bupp, Seven Valleys.

Plaques were presented to winners at the York Holstein Show, held in July. Woodbine Farms, Airville, accepted honors for reserve senior and reserve grand champion, best senior bred and owned, best three senior females, and premier breeder and exhibitor.

Senior and grand champion was exhibited by C.E. Hubbard, Beshore Farms. Downa Doll and Dar-Dale Farm accepted awards for reserve junior champion and best junior female bred and owned. Junior champion award went to Roy Thompson and Shirley Trimmer, Coredale Holsteins. The Tom Boyer family's Sunnybend Farms exhibited best three junior females. Kiddle Klass awards were presented to Amy Trimmer, first, and Daphne Doll, second.

WE DON'T GUESS ABOUT SILAGE HYBRIDS AT DOEBLER'S WE TEST THEM

By Bill Camerer

I'm Bill Camerer, Doebler research director. This computer and electronic scales automatically weigh silage in truck at right.

You might have more protein than usual in your corn silage this year.

That's what we found in our silage trials this fall. Normal range for crude protein in corn silage is 7.2% to 9.1%. Yet half the hybrids in one Central Pennsylvania farm trial this fall tested higher, with Doebler 86XA scoring a lofty 11.1% crude protein.

Doebler's established trials this year on 31 farms in five Eastern states. A sort of hybrid Olympics. While the top hybrids often changed with locations the pattern on crude protein pretty much held up.

Why the higher numbers? The drought, for one thing. As silage tonnage went down, crude protein per ton generally went up.

In that Central Pennsylvania trial, for instance, Doebler 70XC produced the most silage per acre but two hybrids had more protein per acre.

Doebler began silage testing last year to spot the big TDN and protein producers.

This fall we rolled out with a customized Army 6 by 6 truck equipped with a forage box, computer and electronic scales. All silage was weighed automatically and samples wet-tested by an independent lab.

Drought reduced yield figures. On many farms we harvested only half a normal crop. Here are our silage leaders for droughty 1988:

Full Season — Doebler 84XP, 118 day newcomer, was the class of the full season hybrids with per acre bests for total tons and total digestible nutrients.

Doebler 86XA placed second with strong crude protein showings; 89XC a close third.

Late Medium — Doebler 75X-MOD, 113 days, was runaway winner among late medium maturity hybrids. It took 19 first or second places in three categories measured — tonnage, TDN and CP.

Big tons and TDN gave 75X strong second; 70XC placed third with top placings in all categories.

Early Medium — Doebler 59XA, 96 days, showed its versatility in tests of 90 day hybrids with convincing firsts for tonnage, TDN and crude protein.

Doebler 505-3 way a quality second. Doebler 57XP just a step behind in third.

Early — Doebler 370A-3 way, 85 days, is a popular early silage and it showed why this fall by beating the other early hybrids in most matchups.

Three way tie for second between 46XA and 29X with big tons and TDN, and 28XP with big crude protein tests.

Lancaster 4-H Dairy Banquet

Helen Arrowsmith, Angie Spickler and Matthew Welk received the best owner-bred female awards in the Lancaster County 4-H Dairy Club.

Champion showman of the Lancaster 4-H dairy club were Matthew Welk, Tom Barley and Mark Grunow.

Glenn Shirk, Lancaster County's Dairy Extension Agent praised the winners of the best owner-bred females awards sponsored by Lancaster Farming.

"One of the greatest accomplishments of showing cattle is to do well with an animal you have bred. Breeding an outstanding animal requires a vision of what you want to attain and then selecting the right sire to help you reach that dream," said Shirk.

Award recipients were: Angela Spickler, Ayrshire; John Henisee, Elizabethtown, Guernsey; Matthew Welk, Peach Bottom, Holstein; and Helen Arrowsmith, Peach Bottom, Jersey.

Angela Spickler, President of the Ayrshire, Jersey, Brown Swiss 4-H Club announced the recipients of the champion showman awards. The first-year division winner was Mark Grunow of Willow Street. Matthew Welk of Peach Bottom was the recipient of the junior division trophy and in the senior division Thomas Barley of Conestoga was the champion.

Reserve champion showman were: Travis Howes of Elizabethtown, first-year division; Fran Kennel of Mount Joy, junior division, enior division winner, Matthew Wanner of Narvon. Farmers Ag Credit, New Direction Holsteins and Em-Tran, Inc. sponsored the awards.

Honored also were those 4-H'ers with exemplary dairy record books. Recipients were scored on the care given to their animals at home, their interest in their 4-H project, showmanship, and the completeness of their record book.

Following are the results:

1. Karen Kauffman, Peach Bottom; 2. Angie Spickler, Mount Joy; 3. Heather Becker, Narvon; 4. Elizabeth Spickler, Mount Joy; 5. Dana Clark, Lititz; 6. Melissa Enck, Quarryville; 7. Sandra Kauffman, Peach Bottom; 8. Matthew Wanner, Narvon; and 9. Helen Arrowsmith.

Sponsors of the project wards are: Dauphin Deposit Bank and Trust Co.; John J. Hoober Feeds, Inc.; Show-Ease Stall Co. ; W & J Dairy Service; Oxford Greenline; Robert W. McMullen, VMD; Stonehurst Farm Dairy and Powl's Feed.

Marvin Brubaker (left) of Lititz and Kenneth Eshleman (right) of Manheim have served the Lancaster County for more than a quarter of a century and continue to do so.

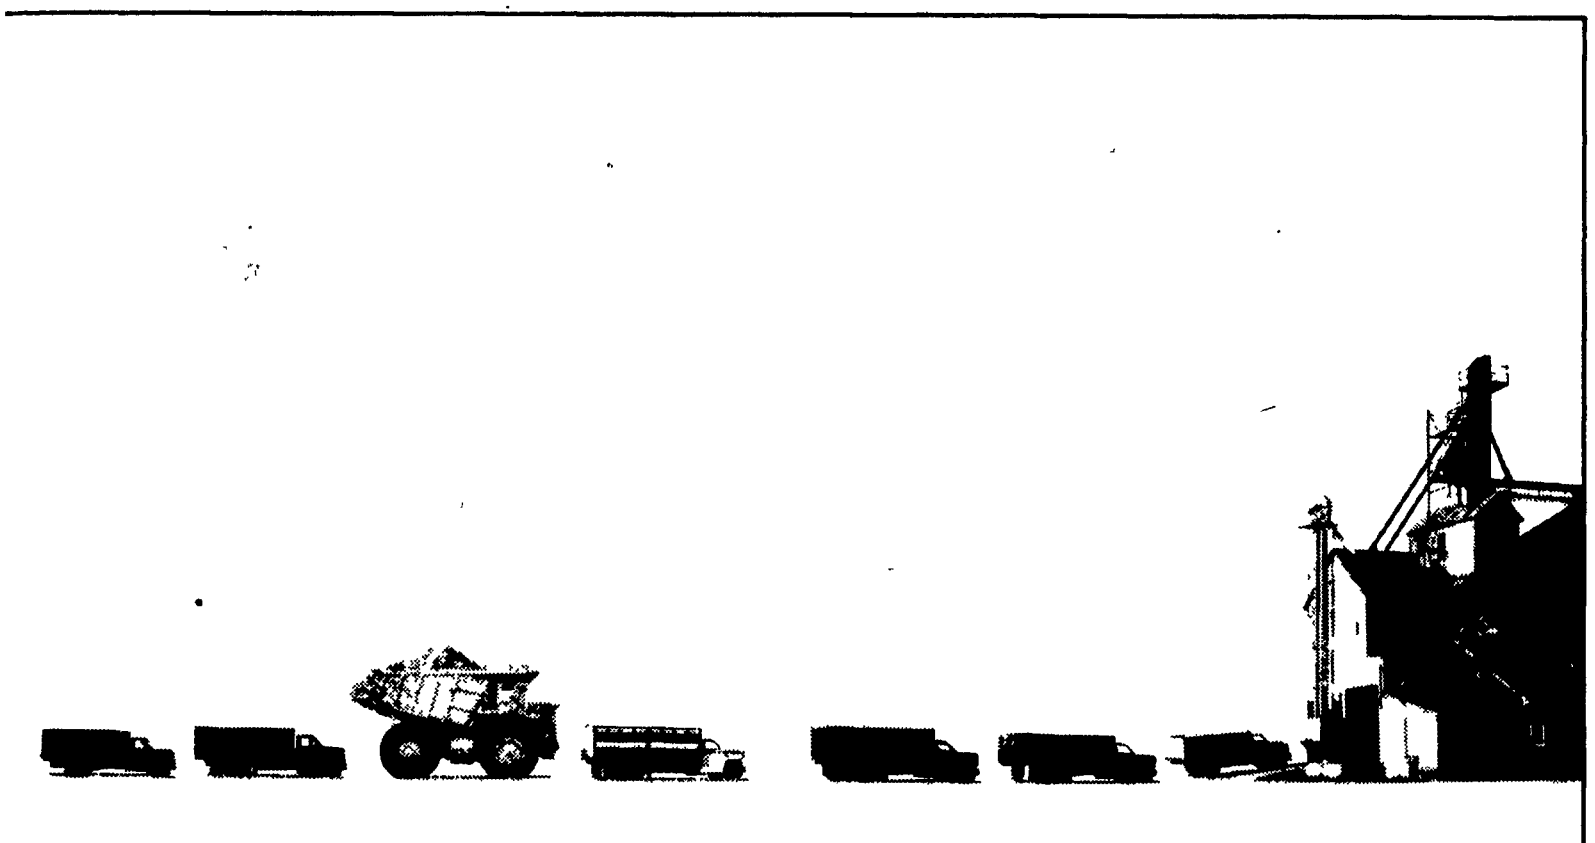
Nails, Boards And Sweat Builds Barn In One Day

On October 6, members of the Clarion-Venango County Holstein Association and the Pennsylvania Farmers Association took a day to build a barn. Along with the neighbors and friends of the Bernard Belchner family, the associations worked towards one goal—a finished barn. At 9 a.m., the walls of the barn lay on the floor like a gigantic jig saw puzzle. It took 800 pounds of nails, 30,000 feet of boards and [illegible] men, but at the end of the day the barn was ready to house the heifers for the winter. The barn replaces one that had been struck by lightning on Sandy Ridge Farms.



DK 636 Performance Stands Out In A Crowd.

When the trucks start hauling in the harvest, it's pretty hard to miss who planted DK 636.
It's also hard to miss the fact that in last year's National Corn Growers Association state yield contests, DK 636 finished in the top 3 no less than 24 times.
Your DEKALB-PFIZER dealer or Agway representative can tell you more about the great results you can expect from DK 636. But be sure to see him soon. Because a lot of people are going to notice performance that stands out like this. And you wouldn't want to be left waiting in line.

Frederick County Fair Dairy Show

BY BETH HUBER
Maryland Correspondent

FREDERICK, MD — For most urban kids summers are spent at the park or at the pool, vacationing with their families or working a summer job. For rural kids summers are spent baling hay, attending 4-H activities, and working on the family farm.

As fall rolls around and summer comes to an end both urban and rural lifestyles unite in school. For many, football games become a reality, but for others the county fair and its competitions the culmination of the summer.

What began as a cool September morning soon turned into a warm fall day for the 4-H dairy exhibitors at the Frederick County Fairgrounds in Frederick, Md.

Type judges for the day included Holstein judge David Hill, Jersey, Ayrshire, and Milking Shorthorn judge Wayne Spurrier, and Michael Allen judging the Brown Swiss and Guernsey show.

In the Holstein competition Gaylene Smith captured both of the top titles. Standing in the champion position was OCS Dairy Val Phil Patty - Z, a 3-year-old daughter of OCS Dairy Elevation Valiant Phil. Bayville Starbuck Star - ET, a senior yearling daughter of Hanover Hill Starbuck, was the recipient of the junior champion and reserve grand champion title. Gaylene's 3-year-old was also named the supreme champion of the show.

A brother and sister team represented the Ayrshire breed. Seth Burrier led his aged cow to the champion circle and Hope Burrier was at the halter of the summer yearling that captured the junior championship

The Kline family consisting of Gregory and Rodney stood in the champion and junior champion places respectively, with their senior 2-year-old and senior heifer calf in the Milking Shorthorn competition.

Seth Burrier in the Ayrshire competition was able to capture the top position in the Brown Swiss show with 4-year-old KEB Clay View P. Magic Pam and Jennifer Keilholtz stood at the top of the junior show with her senior calf a Blessings Titian Noreen daughter.

Clay Smith was the dominating exhibitor in the Guernsey breed holding the top two animals.

In the fitting and showing competition there were 11 first year fitters and showmen which all show in a class of their own. All other fitters and showmanship skills are judged by individual breeds. In a culminating show each winner shows against the others in order to choose a champion showman. The individual breed winners were:

Guernsey — Clay Smith, Jennifer Keilholtz;

Brown Swiss winner — Rebeccah Osborn;

Jersey — Raymond Long;

Ayrshire — Rodney Kline;

Milking Shorthorn — Gregory Kline

Holstein — Crystal Smith. The master showman award went to Jack Kahler showing his Jersey.

New ABS Sire Directories

DeFOREST, WI — The American Breeders Service July 1988 Holstein Sire Directory, is now available. This expanded, more complete 76-page directory has hundreds of full-color daughter, dam and bull photos, plus easy-to-follow production and type information. There are comments on how to use each bull to your herd's best advantage.

To depict bulls' type patterns, the directory features the linear type-trait bar graphs using data from the Holstein Association and the ABS Genetic Trait Summary (GTS). A new, more accurate procedure was used to compute GTS data this year. The major changes were the grouping of contemporary herdmates in a more appropriate manner and an improved repeatability calculation.

These new directories are available through your ABS Representative, or by calling ABS at 1-800-ABS-STUD.

NPPC Chief To Step Down

DES MOINES, IA. — Orville K. Sweet has announced he will step down as chief executive officer of the National Pork Producers Council (NPPC) next July. He will complete 10 years in that position on March 1, 1989.

"Ten years is long enough," Sweet said. "Not only does the Council need a new person to lead it into the 21st Century, but I feel I personally need a new challenge." Sweet said he does not intend to retire, but will remain active in association work. His contract with the NPPC Executive Committee calls for him to serve two years beyond the July 1, 1989 date as a consultant, at the Committee's pleasure.

Orville Sweet has spent 40 years in the field of agriculture. He started as a high school vocational ag instructor in Oklahoma in 1948. By 1963, he was president and chief executive officer of the American Polled Hereford Association. He held that position for 16 years, until joining the National Pork Producers Council as its chief executive officer in 1979. The Council represents the interests of America's pork producers.

During his years at NPPC, Sweet brought the Council into such activities as product improvement, merchandising and consumer affairs, as well as a strengthened producer communications program. He coordinated the establishment of a system for strategic planning for the organization as well as the creation of a Washington, DC office as a base for regulatory and legislative activity on behalf of pork producers.

Sweet is proud of the record of accomplishment during his ten years with the organization, especially the 400 percent increase in funding, increased consumer demand for pork and an enhanced public image of pork producers. "I'd like to think my presence at NPPC helped accommodate these positive things," Sweet said, "but I know the real credit should go to the unique relationship between dedicated producers, a talented and creative state and national staff and the support of allied industry."

Meeting On Ag Health Hazards

If you work in agriculture, you probably encounter health hazards daily. Do you know what kind of protective clothing to wear when working with agricultural chemicals, or how to launder your contaminated clothing? And what can you do to minimize respiratory health hazards?

To help you answer these and other questions you may have about protecting your health, Delaware Cooperative Extension and the Delaware Farm Bureau are cosponsoring a program, Agricultural Health Hazards, for Delaware's farm community. The program is scheduled for Wednesday, November 16, 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in Delmar, Del., at the fire hall.

A panel discussion on respiratory hazards and presentations on a variety of other safety practices are all part of the program. For further information and to register, contact your county Extension office or the Farm Bureau.

American Angus Association Presents Top Pennsylvania Producers

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. — The top 10 producers of registered Angus beef cattle in the state of Pennsylvania recorded a total of 664 Angus with the American Angus Association during fiscal year 1988 which ended September 30, according to Richard L. Spader, Association executive vice president.

The top 10 breeders in Pennsylvania are: Fred C. Frey & Sons, Quarryville, 101-head; Logan Spring Farm, Bellwood, 94-head; Stonylonesome Farm Inc., Stahlstown, 64-head; Fox Hill Farm, Unionville, 60-head; Shawnee Angus Farms, Bedford, 60-head; Burleigh P. Anderson, Loysville, 57-head; Genetics Unlimited Inc., Coatesville, 54-head; Samuel J. Wylie III, Nottingham, 51-head; Erdenheim Farm, Lafayette Hill, 42-head; Greg Krueger & Family, Coatesville, 41-head; and McKean Bros., Mercer, 40-head.

Angus breeders across the nation in 1988 registered a total of 143,520-head of cattle compared to 141,239-head recorded in 1987.

The American Angus Association, headquartered in St. Joseph, Missouri, is the largest beef registry association in the world in terms of both annual registrations and active members.

Crawford Dairy Team Takes Second

MEADVILLE (Crawford) — The 4-H Dairy Judging Team from Crawford County placed second in the state at the fourteenth Pennsylvania Dairy Judging Forum held recently at the Farm Show Complex, Harrisburg, Pa. Members of the county team were Jennifer Dickey, Espyville; R.J. Donovan and Amber Donovan, Titusville; and Beth Ann Duncan, Meadville. The total team score was 980 points. Warren County received first place with a score of 993 points. A total of 17 judging teams in 4-H competed, as well as 31 FFA teams throughout the state. There were a total of 442 4-H and FFA youth participating in the Judging Forum with 138 4-H'ers and 304 FFA students.

In addition, Crawford County had four 4-H'ers judging as individuals. They were Heather Furry, Guys Mills; Stephanie Pegan, Cochranton; Crystal Miller, Cambridge Springs; and Kathy Duncan, Meadville. All of these youth ranked 26th or higher in the state competition.

Any Pennsylvania 4-H or FFA member was eligible to participate in the contest provided they had never participated in a national 4-H or FFA judging contest before. Contestants were required to score five cow classes and two heifer classes of dairy animals from the six dairy breeds participating in the All American Show. In addition, a quiz on dairy herd management contributed to each participant's score. Ratings are based on a possible score of 50 points in each class or a possible score of 400. Crawford County's high scorer was Crystal Miller who ranked 12th in the state with a score of 334.

The highest individual 4-H score was obtained by Kristen Metzker of Blair County. Her score was 377 points.

This is an excellent educational event challenging 4-H and FFA members' knowledge of judging dairy cattle and the dairy industry. The coaches for the Crawford County team were Melanie and Mark Bachman, Union City, Pa.

The Pennsylvania Junior Holstein Convention will be held in conjunction with the PHA convention in Mercer and will be held February 17, 18 and 19.

Alan Hostetter, State Director, announced the Pennsylvania Holstein Association's intentions to build a show barn at state college. This decision came in response to the increasing rent charged for the Farm Show complex in Harrisburg. Rent for the Farm Show buildings for the association's spring show has been set at between $8,000 to $9,000 for the three-day event.

The proposed show barn would house 250-300 head and would cost approximately $200,000 to build. However, once built the univerity would assume responsibility for maintenance.

Ken Raney of the state association reminded members that a moratorium is in effect until November 30. Members can register animals between 9 to 23 months of age for $20/head which is a savings of $25.

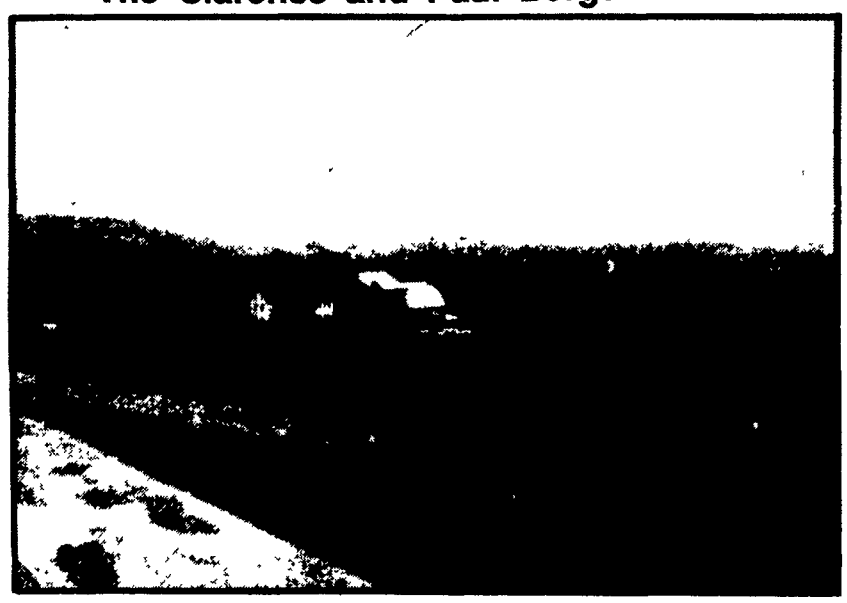
BROWN'S

A YOUNG FARM FAMILY PROVING THAT IF YOU MANAGE THE SMALL THINGS RIGHT - THE BIG THINGS LIKE PRODUCTION, REPRODUCTION, AND CASH FLOW MANAGE THEMSELVES

Farming's A Family Affair for the Fords

Joe Ford, his wife Linda, daughters Kelly and Becky, and son Jacob, started farming in 1984. In April of 1986 they switched to Brown's. In the past 2½ years their DHI Herd Average moved from 17,807 milk and 629 fat to 21,166 milk and 702 fat. They are pictured holding G-TOWN VICKY CAROL IVAN (VG-87) projected to finish in 305 days with over 30,800 lbs. of milk this lactation. Joe appreciates the way Steve Deysher, his Brown's Sales Representative works with him to anticipate feed changes and maximize income over feed cost, a DHI value which has also been increasing since switching to Brown's. Cows like Vicki, which is one of Linda's original foundation cows and has over 150,000 lbs. of milk, provide a sound genetic base for the Bits-N-Pieces Herd.

The Clarence and Paul Berger Farm



Like many young farm families, the Fords rent a farm, because the price of land particularly in areas like Northern Bucks County make ownership a future goal. The Bergers do most of the crop work allowing Joe and Linda to concentrate on the cows. Joe likes the way Brown's adjust their concentrate to match his varying forages, and feels this helps him maximize forage intake, thus achieving higher lactation peaks and greater persistancy. Corn silage, alfalfa hay, wet brewers grains, shelled corn, cooked beans, and Brown's 38 Milkmaster make up Joe's and Linda's current feeding program.

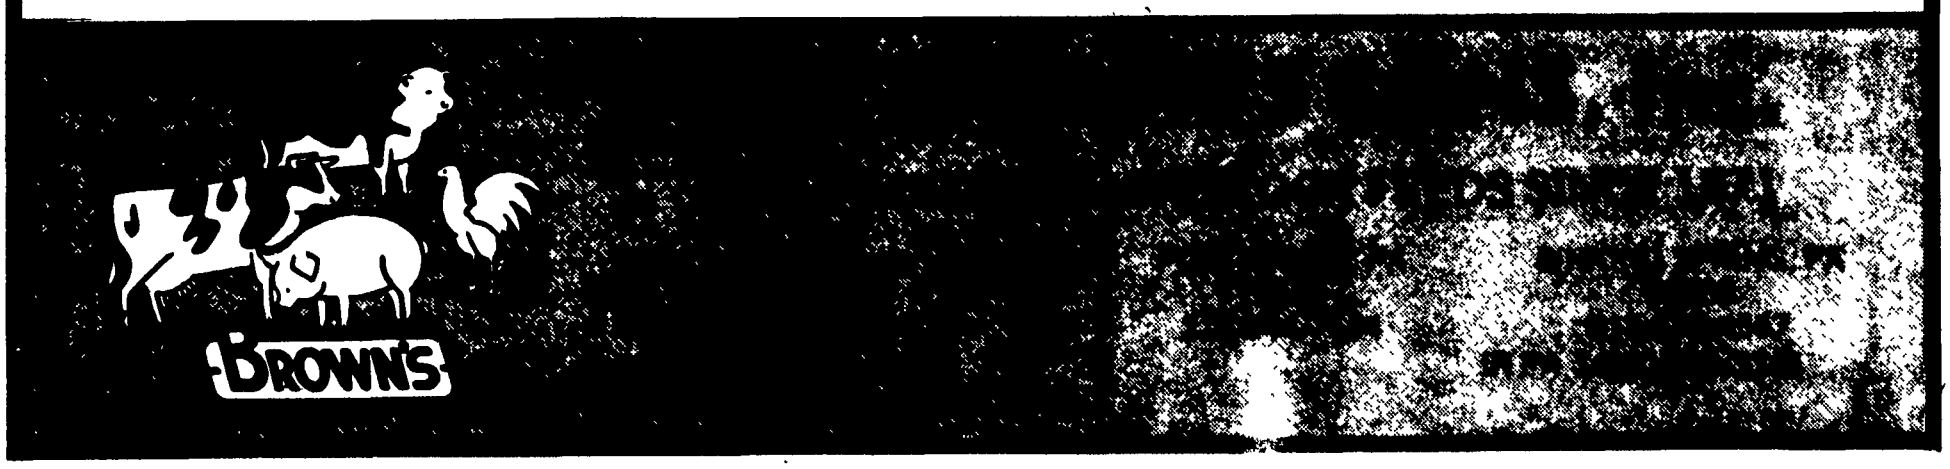
Proper Dry Cow Management - Small Investment - Big Return

Dry cows get plenty of exercise, lots of fresh water, and a well balanced dry cow ration. Joe and Linda also work closely with their veterinarian, Dr. Ron Feindt, DVM, on a sound herd health program. Getting cows to freshen in good body condition, start milking quickly and breed back early are important keys to maximizing milk flow and thus cash flow.

These Calves Are The Future Ford Herd

Bossie's first grain will be Brown's Calf Cox-Guard, a coarse textured calf starter containing Amprol. As she grows she will graduate to a dry grain mix containing Brown's 40 Hef-R-300, a 40% protein supplement containing 150 mg of RUMENSIN per pound. This combination has worked well and produced first calf heifers like Bits-N-Pieces Galahad Ellen who freshened in May at 2 years of age, peaked at 83 lbs. of milk in the August heat and is projected at over 21,117 in 305 days.

AT BROWN'S WE TAKE PRIDE IN WORKING WITH FARM FAMILIES LIKE THE FORDS



Bauder Reaches Milestone For ABS

DeFOREST, WI. — Building a strong reputation for helping others is not an easy feat. But Paul Bauder, Jersey Shore, PA used hard work, reliability and sound advice to consistently attain this feat which has helped him reach a milestone in his career as an American Breeders Service (ABS) Genetic Mating Service (GMS) evaluator...over 100,000 lifetime GMS evaluations. In fact, Bauder has evaluated over 120,000 cows and has in mind a goal of 200,000 evaluations.

Bauder recently reached his milestone of 100,000 evaluations after working as an evaluator since August 29, 1979. Being one of the top 10 evaluators in the country each year for total cow numbers, Bauder was also awarded ABS Region 040 Evaluator of the Year for 1987. During 1983, he was recognized when he evaluated ABS's 3 millionth cow. One reason for his success is his willingness to do the best he can in quantity and quality -- that means working hard, being reliable and "sticking to it."

Bauder's interest in dairy cattle began when he was 17 years old and involved in the Future Farmers of America. At that time Bauder's family lived in town. In 1953, they moved to the farm and purchased five cows from a farmer who sold out. They felt fortunate to start with a herd of that size because at that time 16-18 cow herds were considered large. By 1976, Bauder had his own family (a wife and five children), 60 head of dairy cattle on the farm including 35 cows, and was ready to start milking the first cows from GMS evaluations made a couple of years earlier. Unfortunately, they had some setbacks such as when their barn burned in December 1976, leaving only heifers. After selling the remaining heifers as they freshened, the Bauder family began raising a herd of 30 Simmental beef cattle.

Bauder's interest in working for ABS began in March 1979 when his sales representative visited him about the idea. After traveling with an evaluator in the area, attending breeding school and doing some relief work, Bauder attended GMS school in August 1979 and began working at his present position as GMS evaluator later that month. After starting at a slow pace (950 cows his first four months) Bauder was gradually given more territory to work as he learned more about the business. Since that time, he has averaged around 15,000 evaluations per year and is setting goals of 17,000 per year.

Traveling is a big part of Bauder's business. The territory which he covers has grown to 25 counties, all but one are in Pennsylvania, over the past years. He works with 12 sales representatives, evaluates about 285 herds, and travels approximately 35,000 miles each year. Bauder explains, "It would be extremely difficult to get new customers without the help of the sales representatives or without seeing or being seen by others."

Most of Bauder's customers are repeat customers -- and for good reason. According to District Sales Manager Bill Flick, Bauder's immediate supervisor, "Bauder will bend over backwards to help out a dairyman. He wants to leave the farm a better place because he's been there." Bauder will evaluate a cow or heifer in her "work clothes" in an impartial manner not knowing the sire until after the evaluation is made. He feels this is the key to the program's success.

Bauder also keeps up to date on new information and ideas by attending meetings and workshops and reading several farm journals. But most of all, Bauder, with all the knowledge he's gained, pays attention to detail. He works with dairy managers to stress the importance of good management, including heifer management in reaching their goals.

"One of the main reasons for Paul's success is his extensive knowledge about the GMS program and the entire industry. Someone who has evaluated that many dairy animals and talked with as many dairy producers as Paul has is an invaluable resource for his GMS customers," shares Donna Luecke. Manager GMS Field Operations.

The satisfaction of doing a quality job is what Paul Bauder strives for. Over the years, Bauder has seen marked improvements in the herds he has worked with -- especially in udders, center support, and feet and legs -- as a result of the GMS program and improved management.

After evaluating over 100,000 heifers and cows, Bauder feels "old" after accomplishing so much but has his goal set at 200,000 evaluations. Bauder has a sincere love for the bovine and in helping others -- and it shows in his work. "Evaluating cows is just like dairying; you have to like it or it will drive you crazy." For Bauder, "It's the next best thing to dairying."

Rothrock Bull Selected For Sire Power

TUNKHANNOCK (Wyoming) — A young Holstein bull bred by Rothrock Golden Holstein Farm, Kempton, Pennsylvania, was recently selected to enter the GOLD Sire Development Program at Sire Power, Inc.

Rothrock Royalty Coronet-ET 2061710 is located at Sire Power headquarters where he will undergo an intensive herd health program before joining 70 other bulls being sampled this year.

Sire Power, Inc., the oldest and fastest growing A.I. cooperative maintains high pedigree standards for bulls entering our GOLD Sire Program.

Rothrock Royalty Coronet-ET 2061710 is sired by Lekker Valiant Royalty, a genetically superior bull with +1298M -.09% +$122, 78% Repeatability.

His dam is Carnation Eng Eve Corry-ET, EX(90). She was specially selected because of her outstanding type and production with a top record at 4-11 305 days of 32,100M 4.4% 1402F, a cow index of +1305M +.03% +52F +$160. She is sired by Eng-Amer Ivanhoe Jerry.

The incentives offered to dairymen through the GOLD Sire Development Program are the broadest in the industry and are designed to reward those dairymen cooperating in the sampling and development of GOLD Sires.

County Names Delegates To PFA Meeting

WEST CHESTER (Chester) — Directors of the Chester/Delaware Farmer's Association elected officers, named delegates to annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association in November, and emphasized the importance of participation in local affairs at their monthly meeting held recently here.

Richard Breckbrill of Oxford, was elected president; Elmer Mast of Parkesburg, was named vice-president; Janet Robinson of Oxford, secretary, and Harold Bryson, also of Oxford, treasurer. Tim Hihn was introduced as a new director on the Board.

A partial list of delegates to the FFA annual meeting in Hershey, November 14-16, included Stanley Guest, Elverson; Tim Hihn, Avondale; Robert Kirk, Honeybrook, Harold Kulp, Pottstown and Ed Cannon, Avondale. Other county Farmer's Association members who wish to attend the meeting should contact their local director. Policies adopted at the recent meeting of the County Association will be presented at the state meeting to be considered for state policy. Policies pertaining to national action, after being considered and if accepted at the state meeting, will be forwarded to the national meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation at its annual meeting, to be held at San Antonio, Texas, January 5-11, 1989.

Membership sign-ups for 88-89 are now being conducted. A report from Linda Hicks, West Chester, membership recorder, stated that 389 members had renewed their membership. This is more than half the goal set for the organization. Anyone interested in farming, agri-business, or related activities may join as a non-voting, associate membership in the Association. They may contact Hicks at 436-0444.

Hicks is also chairman of Farm-City Week activities in the County. The date is set for Saturday, November 12. She promises an action filled day for urban folks. The day is planned for children. Visits to a beef, dairy, turkey and other farms. The Dairy Princess will distribute coloring books for children. Cheese for tasting will be offered. Watch for announcement in local news media or call 436-0444 for brochure.

"Nineteen mushroom growers have engaged an omsbudsman to handle alleged complaints with their over 900 employees", Tim Hihn reported. He cited examples of misleading media reports of the mushroom industry. Directors agreed that the local affairs committee should begin an aggressive program of getting facts to the communications media.

Sire Power Acquires Hubal Bull

TUNKHANNOCK (Wyoming) — A young Holstein bull bred by Andrew and Andy Hubal, Thompson, Pennsylvania, was recently selected to enter the GOLD Sire Development Program at Sire Power, Inc.

Hubals Count Signal 2048587 is located at Sire Power headquarters where he will undergo an intensive herd health program before joining 70 other bulls being sampled this year.

Sire Power, Inc., the oldest and fastest growing A.I. cooperative maintains high pedigree standards for bulls entering our GOLD Sire Program.

Hubals Count Signal 2048587 is sired by Modik Valiant Count-ET, a genetically superior bull with +1136M +.01% +42F +$134, 67% Repeatability.

His dam is Hubals Troy Susan, VG(86). She was specially selected because of her outstanding type and production with a top record at 3-0 305 days of 20,210M 3.6% 729F, a cow index of +1493M +.03% +59F +$183. She is sired by Moodys Pat Troy.

The incentives offered to dairymen through the GOLD Sire Development Program are the broadest in the industry and are designed to reward those dairymen cooperating in the sampling and development of GOLD Sires.

Hereford Steer Show Scheduled For November

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The 11th Annual American Royal Hereford-Polled Hereford Steer Show is scheduled for November 6, 1988, in the American Royal Livestock Show Arena in Kansas City.

Interest from beef cattle producers and other major livestock shows have contributed to the show's success and encouraged the continuation of this American Royal event. The American Hereford Association, American Polled Hereford Association, American Royal Livestock Show and several community and industrial organizations share sponsorship in the terminal show.

Entries are open to all 4-H, FFA, AHA and APHA junior members with a Hereford or Polled Hereford steer calved on or after March 1, 1987. Steers must be sired by a registered Hereford or Polled Hereford dam. Both the breeder and exhibitor are required to certify the birthdate and ancestry of the entry. All entries will be subject to age, parentage verification and a breed classification committee.

Entries will be weighed prior to entering the showring and their individual weight-per-day-of-age information calculated. Dr. Doug Parrott of the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, will evaluate and place the classes divided by age.

An index based 40 percent on live placing and 60 percent on carcass retail value-per-day-of-age will determine the steer's final placing.

To qualify for consideration in the final index, an entry must meet five minimum carcass standards. Those five factors include a hot carcass weight of 575 to 800 pounds and marbling score of slight or better. Carcasses with slight degree of marbling must have a minimum .3-inch backfat cover, 1.1 or more pounds carcass weight-per-day-of-age and USDA cutability yield grade of three or better.

Grand and reserve grand champion entries overall will share $5,000 in premiums paid to exhibitors by area business organizations. Additional support totaling $4,000 will be divided among competitors with $1,500 pledged to live placings, $2,000 divided according to carcass index and $500 distributed among exhibitors and breeders of the grand and reserve grand champions.

Complete details regarding the contest are available by contacting youth departments at the American Hereford Association, P.O. Box 014059, Kansas City, Missouri, 64101, telephone 816/842-3757.

OUR CALVES DO GREAT!

HOW ABOUT YOURS?

With over 10,000 calves of our own, we know your problems. All the laboratory developments in the world can't compare with what really happens "down on the farm."

That's how we know Bewital Veal Feed really works. It's processed in our Susquehanna, Pennsylvania plant from all-natural ingredients following a German recipe. All the nutrients necessary for a healthy, marketable calf are contained in Bewital. Just add water. It's that easy.

After all, with 10,000 calves production, if it didn't work, we wouldn't use it either.

Getting Cows Back on Track

The hot dry summer took its toll on dairy herds in several ways, one of which was poorer reproductive performance.

During those prolonged periods of hot weather it was hard to catch cows in heat; even though cows may have been cycling normally, they failed to express signs of heat. If they were bred, either artificially or naturally, many of them failed to conceive or maintain their pregnancy.

During these periods of heat stress bulls can also become temporarily sterile and inactive, and it can be several weeks before they regain their fertility. For this reason, at the conclusion of a heat wave, conception to A.I. service may be greater than conception to natural service, providing cows are in good energy balance.

During hot weather, cows go off feed. If this throws them into a negative energy balance, conception can suffer. If a drought accompanies the hot weather the problem can also be compounded, especially if dairymen skimp on cows' daily ration due to the scarcity of feeds and rising feed costs.

Even though the heat and drought have passed, reproductive problems can still persist. Why? One of the big reasons may be that cows are still "run down" and in a negative energy balance; it may take a while for some of these cows to recover.

Feed For Gain

Concentrate on getting cows back into a positive energy balance as quickly as possible. Encourage dry matter intake with good quality feeds, properly-balanced rations and good feeding practices.

Know the quality of feeds you are feeding. This year, because of the growing conditions we have had, it may be wise to have your forages analyzed. Some feeds will be less digestible due to greater lignification. Many fields were quite weedy, and that can also alter feed quality.

Some forages are higher in quality than usual. For example, well-eared, short-stalked corn silage is higher in energy and lower in fiber. Many farmers are favored by good weather for harvesting alfalfa, and much of it is of higher protein, lower fiber content.

In order to improve overall digestibility of the ration and to enhance dry matter intake some poor quality forages might need to be supplemented with some higher quality, more digestible fiber in the ration.

If you are feeding high quality, low fiber corn silage and alfalfa this year, you could end up with a ration deficient in fiber. That could lead to lower dry matter intakes, lower production, poorer flesh, lower tests, etc. You might need to include additional sources of digestible fiber in the ration.

These are a few examples of some changes that might be needed. Discuss the need or ration adjustments with your nutritionist. In addition to the amount and quality of fiber, you'll also want to be concerned about rumen-degradable protein, protein quality (amino acids), soluble carbohydrates, by-pass fats, etc.

All of this is important as you attempt to maintain a proper and stable environment for rumen micro-organisms to function at peak levels of performance 24 hours a day.

Paying attention to these details also improves feed efficiency; rumen micro-organisms receive the nutrients they need to do the job you expect of them, nutrients are absorbed more efficiently, and additional nutrients are protected from breakdown in the rumen so they can be digested and absorbed in the intestinal tract. This maximizes nutrient absorption, milk production and fat tests, and minimizes weight losses and appetite problems. All of this is worth working for!

Reproductive Management

In your attempt to get cows bred back, remember they need healthy reproductive tracts, and you've got to catch them in heat and inseminate them at the proper time. Or, you can rely upon the instinct and desires of a good bull, hopefully one that is healthy, fertile and of good genetic material. Also consider when you want cows to calve.

Consult your veterinarian about the merits of preventive herd health and reproductive management programs for your herd. This, combined with good nutrition, sets the stage for good conception.

Next comes good observation habits, record keeping, timing of How Far Haul Dung?

This is not part of a Confucian puzzle. It's a very legitimate question to ask as the crops come off, and manure storages must be emptied before winter, or before the hunting season-whichever comes first.

"Can't afford to haul it far!"

This is what most people say. Since time is critical, many operators are anxious to get rid of that smelly stuff quickly, so anything which delays this process is considered to be not affordable. Hence the natural tendency is to concentrate the manure on or near the "home 40". These fields become saturated with nutrients, while the rented fields down the road often remain deficient.

Wait a minute!

If manure nutrients are spread on a saturated field, they will produce no crop growth response. In fact, they are far more likely to cause pollution of our water supplies. Unfortunately too much of our manure finishes up in such a situation. If the same nutrients can be spread on deficient soil they will give us something in return. This will be in the form of crop growth and/or savings in chemical fertilizer cost.

What's a load of manure worth?

- Theoretically it's worth as much as the total value of its nutrients which can be taken up by a crop. So this will depend upon where it is spread.

- On the saturated "home 40" that means it would most likely be worth zero.

- On a low fertility field where all available nutrients can be used by crops, it can be worth as much as $10 per 100 gallons. A typical liquid-stored dairy situation, hauling 3,000 gallon loads calculated out at 130 pounds of Nitrogen, 42 of P_2O_5, and 84 pounds of Potash per load. Valuing these nutrients per pound at 17, 18, and 15 cents respectively, and assuming that with incorporation half of the nitrogen is available, we get a load value of $31.

- On the same type of field but not incorporating the manure within 48 hours reduces the available nitrogen to one fifth, and the value of the above load to $25.

What does it cost to haul a load?

In the situation outlined above, the 105 horsepower tractor consumed 5 gallons of diesel per hour. Assuming fuel and lubrication cost of $5, repair cost of $4, and driver's labor at $5 per hour we have a total cash cost of $14 per hour.

Timing the hauling (not including the filling and spreading time) and empty return trips revealed that this rig could haul a distance of 7 miles and return in one hour. This means that it cost $2.00 per mile to move those nutrients down the road and farm lanes.

In these calculations we are not including spreader loading and field spreading costs nor time taken on those tasks. These activities have to be performed anyway, regardless of where we ultimately dispose of the manure. So we use a partial budget approach to look at costs and benefits from hauling.

How far can we afford to haul?

It is economical to haul those nutrients until the hauling cost is greater than the value of the manure to the crop. This means that with these hauling costs our break-even distance for incorporated manure is 3 1/2 or 15.5 miles.

If the manure is not incorporated it is 25/2 or 12.5 miles. These distances are ONE WAY. So the answer to our original question is that you can probably afford to haul your manure about 10 miles farther than you thought!

But we can't spend that much time at the job.

As a manager of your operation you may have many pressing demands on your time. These calculations illustrate that you can hire someone for $5 per hour to give the extra time to haul the manure, and still be money ahead.

One case in which this type of calculation was applied to a specific field situation revealed a potential saving of $40 per acre, after the 7 mile hauling costs were computed. Sure it took time to haul 75 loads with the tanker truck, but that manager figured that the $2000 savings in the cash-flow was quite worth the time and effort.

Do your own figuring- you might get a pleasant surprise!

Every situation is different. Each manager needs to know the analysis of the manure being applied, and the nutrient requirements of the fields where the nutrients could be spread. These are the most significant factors. So, getting soil and manure samples tested is critical to the management of these valuable nutrients.

With more concentrated manures such as poultry there is already some trade and longer distance hauling. Checking out the nutrient value and hauling cost of most barnyard manures will demonstrate that they can be hauled profitably and supply needed nutrients much further down the road than current practice would suggest.

Need a worksheet?

Contact:

and request a copy of "Manure Hauling Worksheet". This gives an examle (as used to illustrate this article) and the format to help managers push the pencil and calculate their own break-even hauling distance. There is also a sheet to evaluate spreading options on a field with a known crop fertility requirement.

Deer Hunters Encouraged To Get Bonus Tags

CAMP HILL — The Pennsylvania Farmers' Association (PFA) is calling on sportsmen to take advantage of Pennsylvania's first statewide bonus tag program for antlerless deer. County courthouses will begin offering unsold antlerless licenses as bonus tags to hunters on October 24th. Bonus tags can be used during the regular anterless season, December 12 - 14, and/or during the December 26 - January 7 season if a hunter also holds a archery or muzzleloader license.

Keith Eckel of Lackawanna County, president of the statewide farm organization, said, "According to Game Commission statistics. Pennsylvania has too many deer. Game Commission figures show deer populations per square mile exceed the carrying capacity of woodland in all but nine counties. The excess population faces the possibility of starvation if we get a hard winter. The bonus tag program, which our organization supports, is designed to bring the state's deer herd back to a manageable level."

The PFA farm leader said the state's large deer herd also causes problems for farmers. Eckel noted that Penn State researchers have estimated deer damage to farmers' crops to be as high as $31 million each year. "That's a big loss which cuts directly into farmers' pocketbooks," Eckel said.

Hunters can purchase a bonus tag from county treasures over the counter or by mail. They're available to county resident and nonresident hunters alike. It's not necessary to have a regular antlerless license before purchasing a bonus tag. "There should be plenty of bonus tags available," Eckel said, "Last year Pennsylvania had nearly 158,000 unsold antlerless deer licenses as of October 23rd. We hope sportsmen will take advantage of this unique opportunity".

Krenston Reap Top Honors In Forage Contest

ITHACA, NY — The results of the Northeast Forage Quality Contest are in and Krenston Farm, owned by Steven and Don Krenzer of LeRoy, N.Y., is the grand prize winner.

Douglas J. Hillegass of Berlin, Pa., captured the top spot in the hay division with Mike and Gil Kautz of Burdett, N.Y., and the Krenzer brothers coming in second and third respectively.

The haylage competition was won by James Gardiner of Otselic, N.Y. Second and third places went to David Stahl of Somerset, Pa., and Jack Kuney of Waterloo, N.Y.

Krenston Farm's grand-prize entry had a relative feed value (RFV) of 266 with 23.3 percent crude protein (CP), 20.3 percent acid detergent fiber (ADF), 25.6 percent neutral detergent fiver (NDF), and .79 net energy lactation (NEL).

Krenston Farm was formed seven years ago when the Krenzer brothers formed a partnership. They started with 40 cows and have built the 400-acre farm into a 135-cow operation. Their herd has a rolling average of 22,400 pounds of milk and 770 pounds of fat.

The only purchased feed on the farm is the protein, which on an as-fed basis amounts to one-tenth of the total feed volume.

The contest, sponsored by Northeast DHIA, the New York and Pennsylvania Forage and Grasslands Councils, The Northeast Improver, and the New York Holstein News, judged forage on lab analysis, visual inspection, and milk production potential.

"This year the quality of the samples were superior as seen by the average analysis of the finalists," said Paul Sirois, Northeast DHIA lab manager. "Combining the hay and haylage samples, the averages were 22.6 percent CP, .73 NEL, and 196.2 RFV. By comparison, samples in the lab for the summer of 1988 have averaged 19.2 percent CP, .62 NEL, and 126 RFV. Forage is considered prime where the RFV is 151 or better."

Changes In Vo-Ag Programs

Sciences, recommended agricultural education must become more than vocational agriculture and that major revisions are needed within vo-ag.

Farmers and other agri-business people, school administrators, educators and legislators met in Harrisburg on Tuesday to view Videoconference '88, The National Forum on Agricultural Education in the United States. The forum included a panel of educators and representatives of the agricultural industry from across the country who were brought together to discuss the conclusions of the NAS study and its impact on education. The video was telecast from USDA's televideo center in Washington, D.C.

Over 100 people gathered at the department of education to witness the view and to take part in the discussion led by panelists: Larry Redding, Program Specialist Agriculture Education; Representative Samuel Hayes, Jr.; Dr. Donald Evans, Asst. Dean of College of Agriculture at Penn State; Jackie Cullen, Bureau of Adult Vocational Education; Samuel Curtis, head of agriculture and extension department at PSU; and James Kerr, Principal at Walter Biddle Saul School, Philadelphia.

The NAS study committee found that agricultural education in America's high schools usually does not extend beyond the offering of a vo-ag program and that few students have access to those programs and and as a result, few students enroll. As a result of low enrollment the nation's ag industry and economy will from an American public being agriculturally illiterate.

"Agriculture is too important a topic to be taught only to the relatively small percentage of students considering careers in agriculture and pursuing vocational agriculture studies. The committee developed the idea of 'agricultural literacy' --the goal of education about agriculture.

Achieving the goal of agricultural literacy will produce informed citizens able to participate in establishing the policies that will support a competitive agricultural industry in this country and abroad." from the NAS study.

Panelists and audience members agreed the de-emphasis on agricultural education over the past few years jeopardizes the future vitality of agriculture in this country and threatens to dull the competitive edge for American agri-businesses in the global market.

The discussion was scheduled to devise a plan of action. Although the conference went beyond its time limits more time was spent pointing out the shortcomings of the present system and concuring with the conclusions of the NAS study than spent planning a change of course for the future.

"The discussion does not end here, but I was hoping we would leave here today with some concrete direction," said Redding at the close of the conference. "And I was hoping for someone to ask the department of agriculture to provide that direction."

Redding said he is willing to take a leadership role, but says the department will not change its priorities until pressure is put upon them to do so.

The study concluded that agriculture is too important to the U.S. economy to be familiar to so little of the population. To attract more to this field much has to be done.

Agricultural education needs to reflect the changing needs of society. It must go beyond vo-ag and it should become a part of curriculum from kindergarten through twelfth grade. For many years vo-ag has had a positive effect on students, but many agreed that is no longer true in many instances and it is time for major changes.

Much of the focus of vo-ag programs is on production agriculture, but this no longer prepares student for the majority of jobs available in the ag industry today. Also, Vo-ag programs were found to be uneven in quality. Some programs are exemplary, but far too many others do not meet basic educational needs of students and must be upgraded or phased out. And many do not prepare students for study at postsecondary schools and colleges.

Enrollment in programs is mainly white males with a small portion of females and very few students of minorities. And when numbers are down school administrators begin cutting funds. Even in agricultural areas the validity of vo-ag programs are being questioned while some have already been terminated.

"Not since the end of World War II when we went from horse drawn equipment to power driven have we such changes in agriculture. The field of biotechnology is just being developed and we must be prepared to meet the dynamic changes we will be facing," said Sam Curtis."We must make that decision to change now.

Editor's Note: In next week's issue vo-ag teachers, school administrators and those involved in the agricultural industry will share their ideas for change.

Adams Farmers Meet

ABBOTTSTOWN (Adams) — The Adams County Beef Producers will hold a Club Calf Sale on Saturday, November 5, in their new ag-show arena at the South Mountain Fair Grounds, Arendtsville, Pa. Local beef breeders will offer 28 steers and two registered beef heifers for sale beginning at 7:00 p.m. The calves have been selected with 4-H and FFA youth projects in mind. All calves will be weaned, vaccinated, wormed, halter broken and on feed. For more information, call 717/642-5077 or 717/259-0006.

insemination, good semen storage and handling techniques and proper inseminating techniques.

Several tools may also have a place in your reproductive management program. Heat synchronization can help concentrate heat detection into smaller blocks of time. It can also improve the sexual activity of the herd since more cows are in heat at a given time. The use of cow-side progesterone tests can help you evaluate the reproductive status of cows and sharpen your management decisions.

As you try to get problem cows bred back first evaluate if the cow is worth breeding back. Will she remain dry too long, or will she be spending too much time milking at low levels of production and producing milk of questionable quality, perhaps even disqualifying you for milk premium payments? Is she a source of infection for other cows in the herd, possibly exposing them to mastitis, Johnes, etc.? Considering the current price of cull cows and replacement stock, is it more economical to replace her with a more profitable cow rather than to get her bred? However, if you bring new cattle onto the farm be very careful about not introducing new diseases to the herd.

Poultry Association Banquet

Pantano, who was elected to represent allied industry, works for Hess Mills Feed, Paradise. Landis, Martin and Renno represent producers on the 12-member board.

For the first time, the association offered a $500 scholarship for a local student attending Penn State in agriculture or poultry studies. This year's winner is poultry science major Robert N. Barley, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Barley of Conestoga.

Each year, the poultry queen and alternate, who win their titles at the August pageant, receive their scholarships at the annual dinner. This year Alissa Hoober, queen, and alternate, Rebecca Barley received $500 and $300 respectively. Hoober is the daughter of of Mervin and Ruth Hoober, New Holland. Barley is the daughter of Henry and Marsha Barley, Lancaster.

Clair and Shirley Ann High of Ephrata awarded the association a check for $2,194.81. The money is profits received for the association's food stand held at Ephrata Fair.

Entertainment for the 380 members were provided by Kohl and Company Magic Show and by Garray & Tomio Ventriloquists.

Clair and Shirley Ann High presented a check of $2,194.81 to Robert Zimmerman, (right) president of the Lancaster County Poultry Association. The check represents the profits from the association's food stand held at the Ephrata Fair.

Pumpkinville Delights Halloween Fans

BY
CAROLYN HILSDON GILLES
Crawford Co. Correspondent

In October, as one travels Route 99, south of Edinboro, an orange glow seems to color the horizon as one enters the village of Drake Mills. This is the home of Finney's Pumpkinville, founded in 1959 and governed by Janet the Good Witch, a/k/a Janet Finney.

Janet and family moved there 31 years ago and originally operated a dairy farm. They sold the cows in 1965. Her husband, who worked for NW Rural Electric, died 5 years ago. Daughter Jill lives at home while studying at Edinboro College and daughter Cheryl lives nearby with her husband Bill Kent and their children Brandon, 9, and Emily, 3. The Finney farm is 100-acres with 27-acres given over to sweet corn, 20-acres to pumpkins, 3 to Indian corn, 1 to popcorn and 2 to squash and gourds.

Pumpkinville began when the Finney girls were little. One-year-old Jill and three-year-old Cheryl planted a few pumpkin seeds and put their pumpkins out by a corn shock for a Halloween display. The pumpkins were stolen. The girls cried and were so broken-hearted that the next year the Finneys planted an acre in pumpkin seed and, to attract buyers, Janet put a Red Riding Hood doll, a wolf figure and a witch in the yard.

That was the beginning. Each year they have added to their display until Pumpkinville became a family tradition. They can't imagine an October without it. Everybody gets involved: Janet, Jill, Cheryl and Bill and their children Emily and Brandon.

While they are alert all year for new ideas for Pumpkinville, they pull it all together in about two weeks. Everyone enthusiastically pitches in. During the last part of September, buildings come out of storage and are reassembled and figures are stuffed with fresh straw. The display stands until October 31. This year features: a lineman climbing up a telephone pole, a gorilla, a halloween ghoul, an old lady by the pumpkin stand, a scary figure in the tree, and a golfer. Back for a return run are the lion, whose mask came from Disneyworld, the Tinman and the Scarecrow from the Wizard of Oz. There's an Indian tepee beside a pumpkin totem pole, and such visual delights as a pumpkin-headed rider on a pumpkin-headed horse and a buckboard, found on the property under a mound of hay and restored by Janet's brother, that carries a pumpkin-headed family.

Janet loves the fall. She said, "It's fun to see the children from the city. Their eyes get so big." About 10 years ago, a photographer from a local paper, coming to take a picture of Pumpkinville, asked Janet to take the witch's outfit off one of the characters and wear it for the picture. Instead, Janet made herself a witch's outfit and has worn it ever since to greet the school children who come to Pumpkinville. Janet finds that, in addition to adding to the flavor of Pumpkinville, the costume holds the attention of the children. But Janet hastens to assure the children that she is a "good witch." Janet the Good Witch and Janet's daughter, Cheryl, dressed as a scarecrow, welcome the children and tell them what they will see and what to look for.

For the last 20 years, multi-talented Janet has also operated an in-house ceramic shop that she started to keep her busy during the winter months. This closes in August so that she can give her time and attention to the corn she sells. Starting in September, Janet has ceramic classes in the evenings and, in February, in the afternoons, reaching about 60 people a week. In her shop, besides teaching, Janet sells greenware and finished products; she also fires items for people.

Pumpkinville is a fun spot for both the young and young-at-heart to visit. It is popular with both nursing homes and day care centers. Schoolchildren visit by the hundreds each year. They come from places like Oil City, Warren, Erie, Meadville, Conneaut Valley, Corry, Pittsburgh and Connuaut, Ohio. Some come with tours; some come alone. Some come every year as part of a family tradition; some happen upon Pumpkinville by happy accident.

For sale at Pumpkinville are sweet corn, Indian corn, popcorn, squash, gourds, apples, cider, mums, ceramics and, of course, pumpkins averaging from 25 cents to $5. A 200-pound pumpkin goes for $25. Brandon, eager to help his grandmother with selling sweet corn, practices dealing with the public and making change by selling small Jack-Be-Little pumpkins that he has raised himself. Dressed as a scarecrow, Brandon greets visitors on weekend afternoons. Even three-year old Emily, who Brandon describes as "a very cute little girl" proudly escorted her preschool class from Miller Research Center on the first tour of the season. Brandon reports that Emily will do her part and "be a pumpkin" next year.

What does Brandon like best about Pumpkinville? Says Brandon, flashing his delightful smile, "I love everything about it!" It's plain that he speaks for the whole family.

Young entrepreneur Brandon Kent shows 2-year-old Kyle Tomporoski the Jack-Be-Little pumpkins that he grows himself to sell at Pumpkinville.

Jerrod Platkowski of McKean, a frequent visitor to Pumpkinville, came to ask the Good Witch for some pumpkin seeds to grow.

The Long Green Line™

JOHN DEERE

Nothing runs like a Deere™

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

Once upon a time, a certain farm wife regularly climbed aboard a tractor of some sort, which had attached behind it some piece of field equipment.

On occasions, the working equipment was a roaring forage chopper methodically gobbling up corn stalks, and spewing out the chewed up bits into a wagon lumbering behind. Sometimes, it was a hay rake, whipping flat rows of dried alfalfa or grasses into neat, puffy rounds for the baler to package. (Well, maybe not always THAT neat, especially around ends of the fields.)

Most often, though, the equipment clanking behind the wheeled horsepower was a disk. Its twin rows of circular steel blades sliced old sod, worked down cornstubble and smoothed plowed furrows into seed beds for grain and hay plantings. And the disk work was her favorite.

No one laughed at crooked rows and untidy ends, and she didn't have to worry about ejecting bales out over the side of the wagon that someone had to go and pick up in her wake. No, working with a disk, one could daydream, watch clouds and wildlife, the neighborhood and passing highway traffic. A skipped space could be covered with a quick turn around the seedbed.

Then, growing children and other responsibilities came into the picture, along with farming practices using less tillage of the soils. Her finely honed disking skills were replaced by the precocious mechanical instincts of a farmraised ten-year-old.

Only once in recent years did they turn a tractor-disk rig into her hands. When she kept disking, blissfully ignorant that she was minus part of the disk -- which she was alerted to by the Farmer's frantic arm waving -- the farm wife retired in whipped-pup embarrassment.

But time wears down the jagged edges of painful memories. And, recently, stirred by sunny, golden afternoons, and fall grain to be planted, she heard herself offer: "I wouldn't mind disking a day or two if it would help."

So it came to pass a day or two later that the farm wife once again scrambled to the top of a disking rig seat for a mini-refresher course in throttles, high-low range shifts and hydraulic leverage.

Puffy clouds raced across October's azure heavens. Powering their flight was a weather front suddenly barreling down from the Canadian northwest, bearing winds kissed farewell by glacial ice. It rattled rows of dry cornstalks and wafted a dusty coating onto the farm wife, bundled beneath layers of long johns, denim, thermal coveralls, gloves and ski cap.

But the blue skies, bright sunlight and scent of newly-stirred soil were not hers alone. For the entire afternoon, in adjoining fencerows and harvested corn acreage, stalked a trio of gun-toting dove hunters, whose vehicle bore licensing from a distant state.

Though the hunters kept clear of the disking rig, an uneasiness haunted the farm wife. While the quarry was the elusive dove, she hoped they kept in mind that her tractor perch high above the ground made her a sitting duck.

While their progress could be observed from the first strip of stubble, the second field curled out of their sight, over a ridge, and curved around to the far side of the dove-stalking area. Though not anti-hunter, she fervently hoped that any doves in the vicinity chose to walk out, rather than fly overhead, as they departed. Ski caps offer little protection from flying ammunition.

To her relief, the third field offered complete, and much closer visibility to the dove hunters, who solemnly waved and stalked off the other way. Neither appeared too thrilled with the other's presence.

Especially, since it soon appeared that the doves had figured a way out of their predicament. With increasing frequency, singles and small groups of doves departed the area, winging away to safety right over the moving disk rig. Some even rested in the fresh-turned soil, but still close to the tractor, checking the seedbed for snacks.

And I must admit that the added pleasure of riding shotgun with the disk for those doves kept me warm, as the sun slid behind thickening clouds on a chilly, October afternoon.

Label cans
Not people!

Not too long ago, as I was "reading up" as we say in Lancaster County, I came across my high school yearbook. While the pictures are beginning to look like ancient history, the comments we had written to each other had me leafing from page to page. And of course, there's the section with everyone's nickname and a description of activities. It was interesting to see how true to life some of those descriptions came to be, things like... most likely to succeed, class clown, beauty queen.

These yearbook labels while enjoyable to read hit a hearstring that was still reverberating from a recent conversation with a "budding" teenager. In the midst of our conversation, this young teen told me that he was a "dumb" kid. When I asked him why he labeled himself as dumb, his reply was that other people told him so. The truth is that he is far from dumb. But a label has stuck. It happens all too often--words like intelligent sloppy, good-natured, strong-willed, dumb, and ugly are used to describe persons. Unfortunately, sometimes these words take on meaning to the one being labeled.

The danger with labels is that they might be wrong. And a child, once labeled, will try to live up to the meaning of that label. We know that children try to meet the expectations of others--they try to live up to what's expected of them. This is called a self-fulfilling prophecy.

As parents, we need to be concerned about the labels we are applying to those around us and particularly children and youth. I find myself falling into this trap when people ask me about my 14-month-old. "She's a strong-willed child!", I have been known to respond. The result of that kind of statement is that I and others expect that behavior. We'll point it out when it happens and we may even inform the child! However, when I remove that label, I also see a happy, out-going, cuddly, social little girl. Labels can be positive or negative. All too often, we focus on negative descriptive labels.

Realistically, some labels may be correct. Maybe a child is temperamental or slow. However, if we can avoid labeling persons, particularly with negative labels, they change course in research studies, it has been found that one person's expectation for another person's behavior can quite unwittingly become a more accurate prediction simply for its having been made.

"Average, high achiever, dull, organized, slow, troublemaker, introverted, talker, affectionate, and lazy are labels that are stamped on children everyday in day care centers, schools, nurseries and supermarkets. And children sense that other people expect him or her to behave in such a manner. Before long, he or she may be what the label implies, simply because the label was applied.

And so, for that teenager labeled dumb, it's going to be an effort for helpful family members and friends to strip him of that incorrect label. And, this one teen represents many more in similar situations. Let's remember as parents, teachers, and educators to build-up the next generation by labeling cans--not people!

BRAISED SPANISH PORK CHOPS

5 thick pork chops
1 tablespoon fat
1 onion, sliced
2 cups canned tomatoes
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon flour
¼ cup cold water
4 cups hot, boiled rice

Brown pork chops slowly on both sides in the fat. Remove chops from pan. Saute onion in same pan; add chops, tomatoes, and seasonings. Cover and simmer 45 to 60 minutes or until tender. Remove meat and thicken the tomato mixture with flour mixed to a smooth paste with ¼ cup water. Boil 2 to 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Place rice in the center of a platter, arrange chops around rice and pour tomato sauce over top. Serves 5.

Cook's Question Corner

If you are looking for a recipe but can't seem to find it anywhere, send your recipe request to Cook's Question Corner, care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 366, Lititz, PA 17543. There's no need to send a SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address.

QUESTION - Virginia Brubaker, Manheim, requests a recipe for a pear tart that appeared in this paper a few weeks ago. She recalls that the recipe, which she misplaced, uses sour cream.

QUESTION - Mrs. Donald Hill of Apalachin, N.Y., requests a recipe for candied dill pickles.

QUESTION - Ruth Kuhns, Millmont, requests a recipe for cinnamon biscuits that are very moist and have raisins in them with a glaze on top. She also requests a recipe for southern biscuits and a fairly simple recipe for cheese or fruit danishes.

QUESTION - Margie Robbins of Alloway, N.J. writes that while visiting Idaho State Fair this summer, she had potato ice cream which came in all flavors and used real Idaho potatoes. Does anyone have the recipe for Potato Ice Cream?

QUESTION - Barbara Conrad, Montrose, requests a recipe for Jewish Rye Bread that is light.

QUESTION - Barbara Conrad, Montrose, requests a recipe to make strawberry cheesecake ice cream.

QUESTION - J. Musser, Lititz, requests a recipe for making smooth, thick chocolate milkshakes.

QUESTION - May Ozimek requests stir-fry recipes.

QUESTION - An East Berlin reader requests recipes using day-old bread.

QUESTION - Mary Lynn Martin, Orrtanna, requests a recipe for Amish macaroni salad.

QUESTION - Marian Hurst, Narvon, would like to know how to substitute melted chocolate chips by using powder cocoa.

QUESTION - Helen Doise, Stirling, N.J., requests a recipe for pumpkin bread that tastes like that served at the Glockenspiel Restaurant near Kutztown.

QUESTION - Joann Yenser, Myerstown, requests a recipe for a soft, moist yellow cake.

CORRECTION - In the October 15 issue recipes for Concord Grape Jelly Spread and Apple Jelly Spread were printed incorrectly. The recipe for the grape jelly should read artificial sweetner to substitute for ¼ cup sugar. The apple jelly spread should read 6 large or 8 small whole cloves.

ANSWER - Margaret Gockley of Mohnton requested recipes for fondant. Thanks Tammie Godfrey, Felton, for sending to following recipes.

Peanut Butter Cups

1 cup or ½ pound dry fondant
2 cups peanut butter
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ pound chocolate
Peanut butter paper cups

Mix fondant, peanut butter, and vanilla until smooth. Melt chocolate. Paint the inside of the papers with chocolate and put some of the peanut butter mixture inside chocolate. Pour a little chocolate on top just to cover peanut butter.

ANSWER - Lucille Groff requested uses for grape pulp. Here are additional uses from Lois Martin, Waynesboro; a reader from Ephrata; and Tammie Godfrey, Felton.

Grape Pie

1 baked pie crust
Filling:
2 cups grape pulp
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
¼ to ½ cup sugar

Soak gelatin in ½ cup of the pulp. Add sugar and heat to melt gelatin. Add remaining 1½ cup pulp. Cool until mixture mounds with spoon. Place in crust and refrigerate pie until serving (at least 1 hour). Serve with whipped topping.

Grape Fruit Dessert

1 quart grape pulp
2 quart water
1 package grape-flavored powdered drink
Clear jell to thicken
Sugar to taste

Grape Butter

1 cup grape pulp
1 cup sugar

Put in kettle and boil on top of stove for 20 minutes. Freeze or can. Do not boil longer than 20 minutes.

Pork

FILLED PORK CHOPS

6 large pork chops
1½ cups bread crumbs
1 onion, minced
3 tablespoons butter, melted
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup hot water

Mix crumbs, melted butter, egg, and seasonings. Add hot water to make a bread filling. Cut a pocket in each chop and fill with stuffing. Saute chops in a little fat until browned. Place in roasting pan. Add 1 cup water and the pan drippings. Cover and bake slowly for 1 hour in 325-degree oven.

Fleetwood

PORK & KRAUT PIE

½ pound lean pork, cut into ½-inch cubes
1 teaspoon butter
3 eggs
1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups rinsed and drained sauerkraut
1 cup grated cheese
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell
½ cup sliced onion

Slowly cook pork cubes, about five minutes, in butter, stirring until evenly browned on all sides. Place cooked pork cubes in bottom of pastry shell, top with onion. Beat eggs slightly, add milk and pepper. Stir in sauerkraut and cheese. Pour over pork cubes and onions. Bake in 375-degree oven for 45 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Ground pork may be substituted for pork cubes.

Have You Heard?

By Doris Thomas

Lancaster Extension Home Economist

Have A Safe Halloween

As Halloween ghosts and goblins begin to appear about the house, it is time to think about fire safety and making costumes flame-resistant.

Look for flame retardancy on labels when you buy ready-made costumes. If you make a costume, do not use highly flammable fibers such as lightweight cotton, polyester-cotton blends, acrylics or acetates. Avoid napped pile or tufted fabrics and avoid style features like long, full sleeves, flared skirts, ruffles, frills and flowering robes that may catch fire from candles or jack-o-lanterns.

You may want to make costumes from flame-retardant pajama fabric or from a ready-made pair of flame retardant pajamas. Pajamas can be turned into bunnies, black cats, tigers, puppies, lambs or devils by adding wool felt ears and tails.

For extra safety, the clothing underneath the costume should also be flame-resistant. A wool sweater provides warmth and will probably be flame-retardant.

Avoid accidents on Halloween by discussing the basic pedestrian safety rules with your children before the evening's adventure begins. Stress that extra caution is needed at night and provide them with costumes that have some reflective tape. Give them flashlights to light their way.

Youngsters of all ages should travel in groups. Never allow preschoolers or early primary-aged children out without adult supervision. Confine their route to four sides of a single block, if possible, so there is no need to cross streets. If this is not possible, set down rules beforehand that crossing streets is to be done by the entire group and the adult who is supervising.

Boundaries and curfews should be set up for the older kids, too. No children should be allowed to roam all over town at late hours.

Caution your trick or treaters to avoid sampling their treats until you have checked them over.

How To Handle The Halloween Candy Crisis

Despite nutritionists' recommendations to the contrary, candy is still the number one Halloween treat. But concerned parents can use the trick-or-treat bag to their advantage by helping their children learn the meaning of "treat" as something to enjoy only occasionally.

In fact, practicing moderation through self-control and rationing is an important aspect of good nutrition.

With young children, for example, access to the treat bag can be limited by putting it out of sight until after the evening meal.

Parents can also talk about why they hand out non-sweet treats such as peanuts-in-the-shell, fruit, packages of crackers and cheese, balloons, or stickers.

Holiday Craft Market To Be Held

YORK — Get into the holiday spirit at the Annual Holiday Meeting of Penn State Cooperative Extension. There will be ideas from decorating to entertaining for the holidays.

Featured will be Marcia Wharton, lecturer and consultant on creative entertaining with a program "Nostalgic Holiday Entertaining for Today." She will give a treasury of ideas for memorable, meaningful and successful holiday get-togethers.

The aroma of apples and herbs adds to the holiday festivities. Faye Gobrecht from Shorbs Hill Homemakers will show how to make fragrant wreaths and other decorations from your own dried apples. "Herbs with Confidence" is the topic being presented by Susanna Rebert, from the Rosemary House and also a Master Gardener. She will show how to make potpourri, decorate with herbs for the holidays and give tips for growing and cooking with herbs.

If you're looking for a unique gift, Kim Young, Chief Naturalist from Nixon Park will show how to create a backyard feeding station for wintering birds and animals. She'll have a variety of birdfeeders available for purchase.

Extension Homemaker Groups will display trees decorated around the theme "Trim a Country Tree."

This event is being held November 15 at the 4-H Center, 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. Tickets are $3.50 and must be purchased in advance from Penn State Cooperative Extension, 112 Pleasant Acres Rd., York, PA. Send a self addressed envelope stamped envelope along with a check payable to: Extension Service Special Fund by November 7. For information call 757-9657.

4-H HAPPENINGS

Poultry Judging

The Janicke twins of Pikesville (Baltimore County) have already played key roles in helping Maryland teams do well in consecutive years during the World Series of 4-H horticulture judging. This competition is normally held over Halloween weekend at various locations around the country.

Now the two 17-year-old high school seniors are poised to help the Old Line State score a consecutive-year, all-time best performance in national 4-H poultry and egg judging competition on Nov. 17 at Louisville, Ky.

Mary Beth Janicke was a member of the Maryland team which placed second two years ago in national 4-H horticulture judging competition held at Raleigh, N.C., in connection with the annual meeting of the National Junior Horticultural Association. She placed ninth among individual contestants.

Last year, Mary Beth was a member of the state 4-H poultry and egg judging team which brought the national crown in this event back to Maryland for the first time in 25 years. She tied for sixth among individual contestants.

Also last year, Susan, the other Janicke twin, was a member of the state team which brought the national 4-H horticulture judging title back to Maryland for the seventh time since 1972. She placed second among individual contestants.

This year, Susan is a member of the Maryland 4-H poultry and egg judging team--faced with the pressure of defending the national title in this category won by last year's team on which Mary Beth competed.

There's a bit of sadness tempering the excitement building up in the Janicke household, however.

The girls' grandfather, William E. Klingelhofer of Randallstown, died only a few weeks ago. Mr. Klingelhofer had been a prominent Baltimore County fruit and vegetable grower. As a longtime volunteer adult 4-H leader, he had coached many of the county's 4-H horticulture judging teams--including the Janicke twins.

Klingelhofer also was a longtime member of the advisory committee for the University of Maryland's Cooperative Extension Service in Baltimore County.

Board Of Directors

State 4-H leader Marty Butterfield announced the election of two new 4-H board members. Dale Wolf and Susan Cox are joining nine other Delawareans as members of the board of directors of the Delaware 4-H Foundation.

Cox, a Kent County resident, was a 4-H member for nine years with the Houston Cardinals 4-H club. She was a state 4-H dog project winner and served for five years as a volunteer 4-H leader with Green Acres 4-H club in Camden. Cox is a third-grade teacher in Allen Frear School in the Caesar Rodney School District.

Wolf was a seven-year 4-H member in Buffalo County, Neb. As a 4-H'er, he showed sheep, earned a trip to Chicago and served as president of his club. Wolf recieved a Sears 4-H Scholarship to attend the University of Nebraska. He currently serves as a member of the National 4-H Council Advisory Committee. Retired from the Du Pont Co. as group vice president of agricultural products and the former director of the Delaware Development Office, Wolf is the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

Awards Dinner

On Tuesday, October 11 the Leader's/Member's Recognition Dinner was held at Hepburnville Fire Hall. During the evening leaders were recognized for their years of service. Leaders receiving pins for ten years of service were Betty Delaney of Little Muncy Creek, Barbara Stone from Trail Riders, Dave Little of the Rifle Club and Clayton Merrill Sr. from the Rifle Club and Fairfield. Vivian Eck of the Nisbet 4-H Club received a Diamond Clover pin for twenty years of service and Lavone Young of Roughnecks Horse and Pony Club was honored with an Emerald Clover for her 25 years of service. First-and fifth-year leaders also were recognized.

Contributors to the 1988 Friends of 4-H campaign were also recognized by Friend's president, Lee DeMorat. Representatives from Valley Farms, Bell of Pennsylvania and the Plankenhorn Foundation assisted with 4-H member awards. Members were recognized for their participation in contests, public speaking, demonstrations, national awards, fashion revue, leadership and county council.

The James Nicholson Citizenship Award was given to Greg Girven of Little Muncy Creek 4-H Club. Shannon Vermeulen of Chippewa Acres and Lone Riders Horse and Pony Club and Bill Kless from Toastmaster's Public Speaking received the I Dare You Leadership Award. Erin Eck of Nisbet Community Club and Cathy Murray from Hillcrest were honored as outstanding 4-H'ers of Lycoming County.

New County Council officers were also recognized. They are President- Greg Girven; Vice-President, Shannon Vermeulen; Secretary, Erin Eck; Treasurer/News Reporter, Bill Klees; and representatives to 4-H Advisory, Erin Eck and Cindy Jarrett.

The 4-H Coordinator in Lycoming County is Thomas Murphy. 4-H Program Assistant is Barbara Hutchison.

MICROWAVE MINUTES

By JOYCE BATTCHER

Halloween party treats are easy to make in your microwave.

Today's recipes are versions of the popular party mix. One is a spicy Mexican flavored mix and the other, a sweet cereal and nut combination.

The first, Taco Pretzels and Crackers, would bake in a conventional oven for one hour and have to be stirred each 15 minutes. In the microwave, butter is melted in seconds, seasonings stirred in and then pretzels and cheese crackers are coated with the butter mixture. Microwaving time to lightly toast the pretzels and crackers is only 2½ to 3 minutes, with stirring after each 1 minute. Quick cooking is one big advantage of microwaving this treat. Another advantage is that the same dish is used from start to finish.

The only thing to watch out for in this recipe is that the mixture doesn't burn towards the end of cooking. To prevent burning, stir well each minute moving the pretzels and crackers from center to outside dish edges and scraping the butter mixture from dish bottom and onto pretzels and crackers each time. Cook the minimum time and check carefully — you probably won't see browning, but can smell when the mixture is slightly toasted. That's the time to stop microwaving. As in other microwave cooking, food continues to cook after the microwave is shut off. Even in a conventional oven, when browning crispy ingredients, like party mix, the ingredients continue to brown after removal from the oven.

Cereal Nut Crunch calls for melting white candy coating with milk to make a thin coating for a variety of cereals and nuts. This combination is a lot less sweet than cereal almond bark candies.

The part of this recipe that can be tricky is to melt the coating in milk — if you add the milk later, the coating will stiffen and maybe never soften again. Rather than stir at first, try to break up the coating; milk should boil around coating to help soften it. Although often candy coating can be melted on High, this time it's best to use a lower power setting so the milk can gradually heat and melt the coating before stirring. Stir until smooth. Then wait several minutes to add cereal to prevent cereal from getting soggy from the hot mixture.

Taco Pretzels And Crackers

6 tablespoons margarine or butter
1 envelope taco seasoning mix
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 cups miniature pretzels
5 cups tiny cheese crackers

Melt margarine in a microwave-safe 8x12-inch dish by microwaving (High) 30 to 60 seconds. Stir in taco seasoning mix and Worcestershire sauce until well combined. Stir in pretzels and crackers until well coated. Microwave (High) 2½ to 3 minutes, stirring after each 1 minute. Watch carefully toward end of cooking so mixture doesn't burn. Cool. Store tightly covered. Makes 8 cups.

Each ½ -cup serving: 125 calories, 2g protein, 7g fat, 15g carbohydrate, 547mg sodium, 0 cholesterol.

Hint: If mixture seems on the verge of burning (if it looks slightly brown or smells slightly burnt), immediately remove it from cooking dish and cool it on a cookie sheet.

Cereal Nut Crunch

1 pound white candy coating
½ cup milk
6 cups corn or rice squares cereal
2 cups ring-shaped oat cereal
1-2 cups salted cashews, mixed nuts or peanuts

Place candy coating and milk in microwave-safe 3-quart casserole. Microwave on Medium (50% power, 325-350 watts) 3 minutes. Break candy coating apart and stir. If necessary, continue microwaving on Medium for 20 second intervals or until coating can be stirred smooth. Let stand 5 minutes to cool slightly. Stir in cereals and nuts. Spread on a cookie sheet. When cool break into pieces. Store tightly covered in cool place. Makes about 9 cups.

Each ½ -cup serving: 230 calories, 3g protein, 10g fat, 30g carbohydrate, 147mg sodium, 0 cholesterol.

Questions and Answers

Q. My cookbook says not to use metal. What can I use instead of foil to cover the corners of a dish of cake or chicken wings?

A. Most cookbooks caution against using metal. Then they usually go on to say — either in the introductory chapter or in the baking or meats chapter — that small pieces of aluminum foil may be used for shielding.

Microwaves are reflected away from metal, so the foil prevents food that it covers from overcooking and drying out. There is no practical substitute for foil. When used correctly, foil will not harm your microwave oven if your microwave was manufactured after 1980.

Check your cookbook again and follow the guidelines it gives. If it says not to use even small pieces of foil for shielding, then don't. Instead, microwave all cakes in a ring-shaped dish and remove chicken wings if they are done before the rest of the chicken.

Q. How can I reheat homemade TV dinners? I often make chicken dinners and the chicken leg gets tough after reheating.

A. Arrange the foods so the thinnest foods (for example, the thinnest part of a chicken leg) or smallest foods (for example, vegetables, such as peas, corn and green beans) are towards the center of the dish and thicker foods are closer to dish edges. Arranged this way, foods will usually heat more evenly because food in the center of the microwave (and the dish center) usually cooks slowest.

Try microwaving the dinner covered with waxed paper and use a Medium-High power setting, rather than High.

Q. I cook for a large family and use a minimum of convenience foods. Do you think I'd benefit from a microwave?

A. You may not cook a whole meal in your microwave — not because it doesn't work well for "from scratch" cooking, but because cooking large amounts of food is more practical to do on the range or in the oven. But, you probably would find a microwave useful for small jobs — such as melting butter and chocolate, softening cream cheese etc.

Cooking vegetables for a large family works well too. And, of course, a microwave is great for reheating leftovers or one-plate meals for those times when individual members have to eat separately.

Questions for Joyce?

Do you have a question about microwave cooking? Send it to Microwave Minutes, % Extra Newspaper Features, P.O. Box 6118, Rochester, MN 55903. Please include a self-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope.

Recipes in this column are tested in 600- and 650-watt microwave ovens. With an oven of different wattage output, timings may need slight adjustment.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

Last week my husband and I took a bus trip to the Pocono Mountains. The foliage was very beautiful despite the fact that it was a cloudy day. We even saw several deer on the grounds of Unity House Resort where we had lunch and heard the Sammy Kay Orchestra. The restaurant area was huge and seated 500 people.

When we got home we learned that friends from Texas were in Lancaster County and would be visiting the following morning. So I baked an apple coffee cake as the cherry pie and pumpkin pie from two days ago were eaten. They have a clock shop and when I showed them my antique gold watch on a chain they took it apart to determine its age. It belonged to my husband's aunt and has her initials on the front.

This morning our son and his wife flew out of Philadelphia to Chicago to attend a wedding. Just before he left the chain on the feed conveyor broke and now that will be one extra job as the cows must be fed. My extra job, while they are gone four days, is to feed their two dogs. A young man will come in the evening to help Allen tend the 100 head of livestock.

Something ate my sweet potatoes this year. When the leaves began to die, I could see big and little holes every foot or so along the ridge of sweet potatoes. The plants had nothing below the ground. Was it mice, rats, moles or what? I won't have to worry about their keeping until I can use them.

The Pizza Hut promotion includes a special offer for dairy farmers. By presenting a bulk tank reading, they can receive $2 off the cost of a large pizza with extra cheese, or $1 off a medium extra cheese pie. The offer is good at Twin Tiers Pizza Huts only, with stores located in Elmira Heights, downtown Elmira, Southport and Owego, NY; as well as South Waverly, PA.

The promotion is being co-sponsored by Twin Tiers Pizza Hut and the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council, Inc.

4-H HAPPENINGS

Spirit Award

Ruth Adler, a faithful 4-H volunteer leader of 40 years, and Hatfield Quality Meats, strong supporters to 4-H, have been awarded the "4-H Spirit Award" in Cumberland County for 1988.

Adler is recognized for touching the hearts of many. She is dedicated to giving and to teaching. Adler teaches more than sewing skills at her Lower Frankford Busy Bees 4-H Club, she teaches life skills, cooperation, and sharing. For many years Ruth opened her home to countless numbers of young people to hold 4-H meetings. When the numbers grew they moved to a church facility of an old one-room schoolhouse. Adler's 4-H club's business meetings always included a song or two accompanied by Mrs. Adler who also teaches piano. Not only has Adler touched the lives of many young people, but she serves as a volunteer for residents of Thornwald Nursing Home, her elderly neighbors, serves her church and church choir, and is a member of the West Pennsboro Fire Company ladies auxiliary.

Carlisle Rotary also awarded a Cumberland County "4-H Spirit Award" to Hatfield Quality Meats Inc., Hatfield, Pa. Hatfield is a family owned business of 93 years. They are a long time leader in the manufacturing and distribution of fresh pork and pork products in the Philadelphia and Central Pennsylvania area.

Hatfield has been a strong supporter of numerous 4-H Swine Clubs in various counties for many years. Each year they purchase hundreds of 4-H project market hogs and many grand champions at Roundups and the Farm Show. Ezra Good, Hatfield's buying agent, judges 4-H shows and gives show ring advice to members.

We appreciate the support both of these recipients have given to 4-H over the many years.

HAPPENINGS

Blue Ridge

The Pennsylvania Eastern Regional FFA Leadership Conference was held on October 14, 15 & 16, at the Pocono Environmental Education Center, Dingmans Ferry, Pa. Approximately 120 members and advisors from Eastern PA attended the conference.

The Blue Ridge FFA members who attended the conference were Seniors: Rodney Keller, Brian Pryor, and Kurt Baer; Juniors: Brad Herrold, Nelson Beaver, and Lee Green; and Sophomore Chris Reichard. The advisors attending with the students were Mr. Herrold and Mr. Reichard.

Five workshops were conducted. Workshop topics included Public Relations, Proposed Changes to the State and National FFA Constitutions, Goal Setting, How to Complete Award Applications, and PA FFA Foundation Activities. Competitive events included an Obstacle Course, Forestry/Wildlife Contest, Scavenger Hunt, Creed Contest, and Quiz Bowl.

The results of the activities that Blue Ridge FFA members participated in are as follows: Scavenger Hunt- Nelson Beaver and Brad Herrold, 3rd place; Public Relations Report- Brad Herrold, 4th place; Creed Contest- Chris Reichard, 1st place.

Cedar Crest

Six members of the Cedar Crest FFA recently attended an FFA Leadership Training Conference at the Cedar Crest Middle School. The purpose of the event was to familiarize FFA officers and members with their duties and responsibilities as chapter officers. The conference also included sessions on developing leadership skills.

The group was greeted by Duanne Copenhaver, Lebanon County FFA president. As part of the program, George Moyer, area farmer, presented a slide presentation on "Power Take-Off Safety." Also, Larry Reading, state FFA adviser, gave a talk on "Taking Advantage of Your FFA Opportunities."

First-year FFA members from Lebanon and Schuylkill counties competed in a quiz contest. Participants had to answer questions about the FFA. Chris Schott, Nathan Seyfert, and George Steiner competed for Cedar Crest. Steiner tied for 5th out of 12 contestants. A meal was then served to everyone. After dinner the FFAers were divided into three groups. The groups were as follows: How to Put a Scrapbook Together, a Game to Meet Other Members, a slide presentation on Chapter Activities. While in the group, members learned to improve both their chapter and themselves.

The conference was closed with regular FFA closing ceremonies. Other Cedar Crest participants were John Risser, Chris Long, Jim Houser, and chapter advisor, Harold Berkheiser.

A Blizzard Of Ideas From "Christmas In October"

BY LOU ANN GOOD

LANCASTER — For 15 years, women have looked forward to the "Christmas In October" workshops sponsored by the county extension office. There they learn how to deck their halls, doors, and tables with holiday beauty, to make gifts and cook holiday recipes.

This year was no exception. Approximately 450 women attended the workshops held this week at the Farm and Home Center.

If you are one who admires your neighbors' centerpieces, but protests, "I don't have time to make one," then Sherry Kalback, one of the workshop demonstrators, has these words of advice: "I'll teach you how to arrange your life so that you'll have time to be just in time for Christmas." She endorses time-savers such as limiting dusting to twice a year.

Sherry Kalbach revealed that her projects are not always derived from junk, but she did use remnants and outgrown baby clothing to make a doll that looks like her adopted daughter. Snow White's dess and the Seven Dwarfs inserted in the skirt doubles as a costume for her daughter and a doll.

Lint projects

Because she majors in making things out of junk, Sherry is best known in Lebanon and Lancaster counties as the "garbage bag lady" or the "lady who cooks lint."

Capitalizing on her reputation, Sherry displayed numerous items transformed from worthlessness into new items. Last year, she demonstrated projects made from cooking dryer lint. This year, Sherry has adapted her dryer lint projects to the demands of the busy housewife; consequently, her dryer lint projects no longer require cooking. She simply glued lint to wooden sheep cutouts, using homespun colors of lint.

Reindeer are in this year. Sue Miller painted this papier-mache model and twisted a garland of dried flowers to add a festive touch.

As usual, the holiday dishes prepared by Doris Thomas, extension home economist, became door prizes for the lucky winners.

Travel books

For those who need to travel with small children, Sherry suggests compiling a travel activity book. She fills zip lock plastic bags with items guaranteed to keep little fingers busy. The bags are fastened at the edges so they can be turned like the pages of a book. Each compartment holds items such as recycled greeting cards with holes punched at strategic points and yarn for threading through them; pipe cleaners to form stick people, puzzles fashioned from cereal boxes, pencils, paper, crayons, a magnifying glass and magnets.

Corn capsules

Sherry's humor shines through many of her projects. This year she created Christmas corn capsules, which are used as a Christmas countdown for children. The container spouts these words:

"How many days till Christmas?
It's awfully hard to wait! So,
Reach in the jar and pull out a roll

(Turn to Page B18)

Bonnie Livezey received an audience ovation when she demonstrated how to make this wicker bell fan.

Twigs tied in a square and topped with greens and a bow makes this a simple but effective arrangement to hang on the door or window.

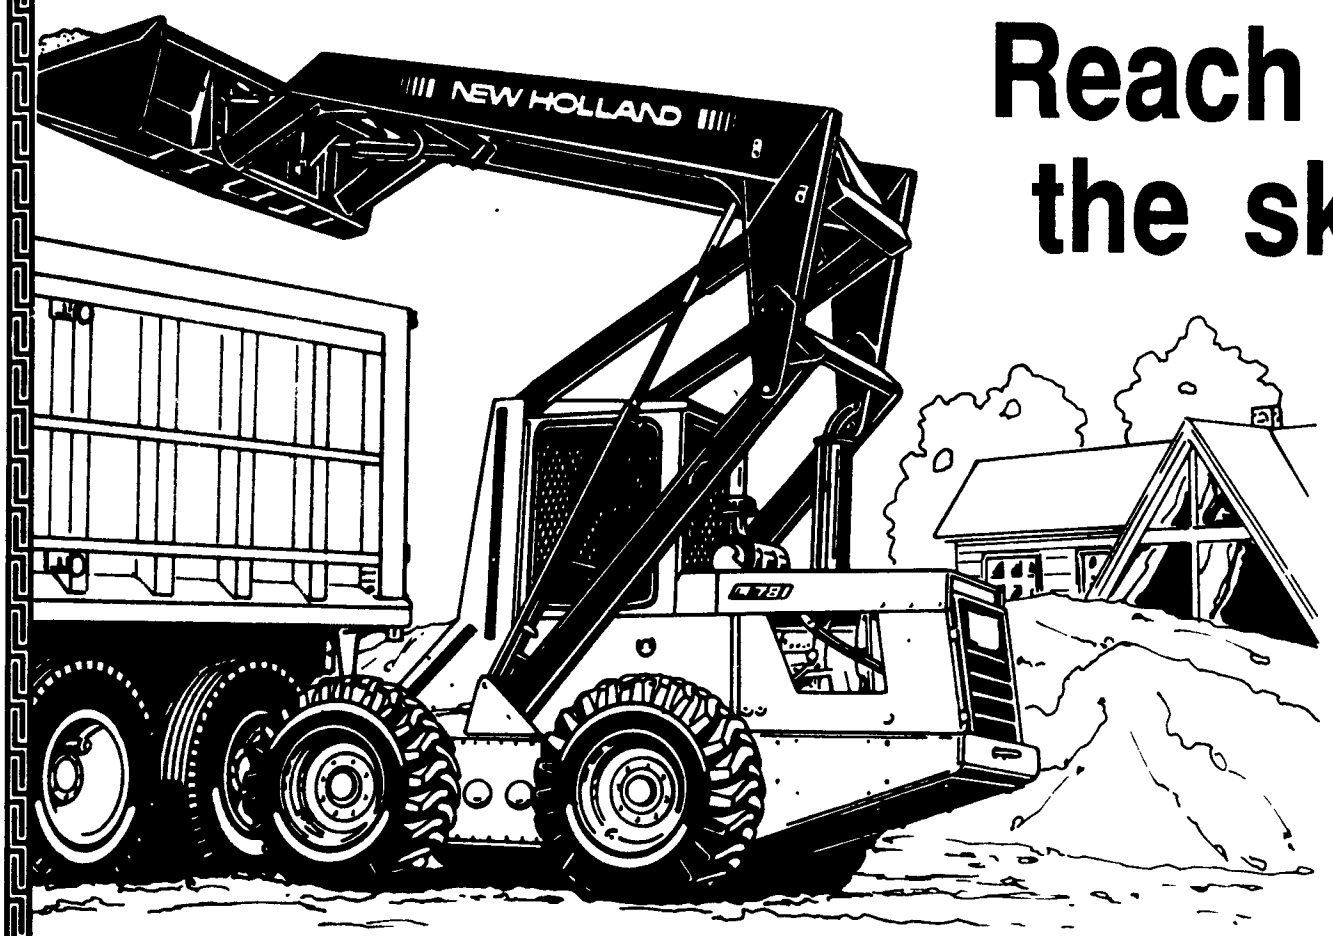
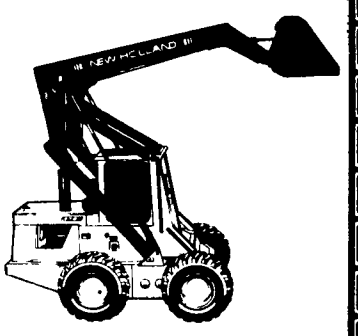
Reach for the sky!





Unmatched dump reach.

Get it done fast!

This loader does it all.

New Holland "Super Boom" loaders lift the payload forward as the boom rises. So you get more forward dump reach where you need it most. Extra dump reach means you can load the center of a tandem-axle dump truck.

Super Boom loaders also feature a longer wheelbase for increased stability and fast cycle times for more productivity.

Models range from 18 to 75 horsepower with SAE load ratings up to 2,050 pounds.

Ask us for a demonstration. You'll see how much better a skid-steer loader can be.

"Christmas In October"

That matches to the day's date.
Enjoy some holiday silliness
On each December day.
And watch how quickly that long month
Can be laughed away!"

Inside the Christmas corn capsules are tucked riddles such as these: How can you tell the difference between Christmas trees?
Listen to their bark.
Why did Santa Claus sit on his watch?
He wanted to be on time.
What did one candle say to another?
Are you going out?

Tie projects

In keeping with last year's idea of recycling old ties, Sherry has some fresh ideas. Snip off the tie ends, stuff with potpourri and tie with a ribbon to make sachet bags.

With the remaining pieces, cut the ties on the diagonal and stitch coordinating remnants together to make Christmas stockings. For pillow tops, stitch diagonal strips on top of satin material, stitch piping around edges and stuff for pillow.

CHRISTMAS ARRANGEMENTS

Bonnie Livezey from Philadelphia demonstrated Christmas arrangements that combined natural greens with fresh and silk flowers.

Bell fan

Her bell fan arrangement brought an ovation from the audience. To make it, she soaked two wicker fans in warm water to make them pliable. Folding the fans in a bell shape, she secured the ends with a small piece of wire. Bells were attached to ribbons to be used as clappers. The wicker bells were attached to greens and a bow to the handle. Placed on a door it gives an inviting touch to holiday visitors.

Pocket filled with greens

Other easy arrangements that give an elegant touch included "a pocket filled with greens." For this project, soften a wicker mat in warm water to make it pliable. Fold wicker mat into a pocket and fasten with wire at each end. Spray with gold paint or leave natural. Weave a ribbon around the edge and tie in a bow at the center. Fill with a variety of Christmas greens. Fresh flowers may be added if inserted in green floral foam.

Boxwood Christmas tree

Shape a piece of oasis into a cone, soak well and place in a low shallow dish. Cut boxwood or greens in graduated lengths in order to shape tree. Slant bottom branches in order to hide container and give a graceful effect. Decorate with minature birds, balls, bows, fruit, baby's breath or statice.

Yule log of greens

Cut an 18-inch square of hardware cloth (½ -inch wire mesh). Wire the two diagonal corners together. Spray gold. Fill with greens, holly, Christmas balls and pine cones. Attach a bow at center point.

PINES AND VINES

Sue Miller of Lititz said, "an Olde World feeling of elegance can be created by using ivy vines." She suggests making an ivy tree by inverting a tomato cage and pulling the top wires together to form a peak. Cover with ivy. Decorate with Christmas balls and ribbon.

Again an ivy wreath can be made by forming a ring using paper twist. Attach ivy and a candle to bottom of ring with hot glue.

Another simple decorating tip calls for gluing ivy stems to the rim of a wicker basket. Accent with a red and green plaid bow.

Sue entertained the audience with tales of incorporating the family in helping with her chores. She suggests involving children by having them make Christmas wrapping paper. Scatter sprigs of evergreens on wrapping paper. Lightly spray it with paint. Remove evergreens and the delicately sprayed paper gives a woodsy touch. Tie packages with red ribbon and trim with eucalyptus and dried berries. Stencil gift tags.

Children also can make twig stars by gathering twigs. Snip to same length. Form two triangles by fastening twigs ends together. Invert one triangle and place on top of other one to form a star. Fasten with wire or paper twist where twigs overlap. Glue cornhusk doll or battery operated candle in center of star. Hang from a window.

HEALTHY FESTIVE HOLIDAY FOODS

Doris Thomas, extension home economist, displayed some new ways of cooking holiday fare the heart happy way that she stressed taste delicious without being laden with sodium and fat. Her ideas included both gifts for holiday giving and for the Christmas dinner.

To spice up ordinary popcorn, she suggests:

Fruity Cinnamon Popcorn

1 tablespoon margarine, melted
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
8 cups popped corn (popped with-

(Turn to Page B19)

For a closer look, the audience visited the display table during lunch time. Here a participant examines "a pocket filled with greens."

Sue Miller peppers her craft demonstrations with comical tales about incorporating her family's help in her creative projects.

out salt or fat)
1 cup chopped dried mixed fruit.

Combine margarine and cinnamon; stir well. Drizzle over opped corn gently to coat. Add chopped dried fruit and toss gently. Store in an airtight container. Yields: 8 cups (about 84 calories per 1-cup serving).

Marinated Broccoli Chunks
1 tablespoon rice vinegar
1 tablespoon olive oil
¼ teaspoon dried whole dillweed
1 clove garlic, minced
2 pounds fresh broccoli
Red cabbage leaves
Fresh dill sprig (optional)
Pimiento strip (optional)

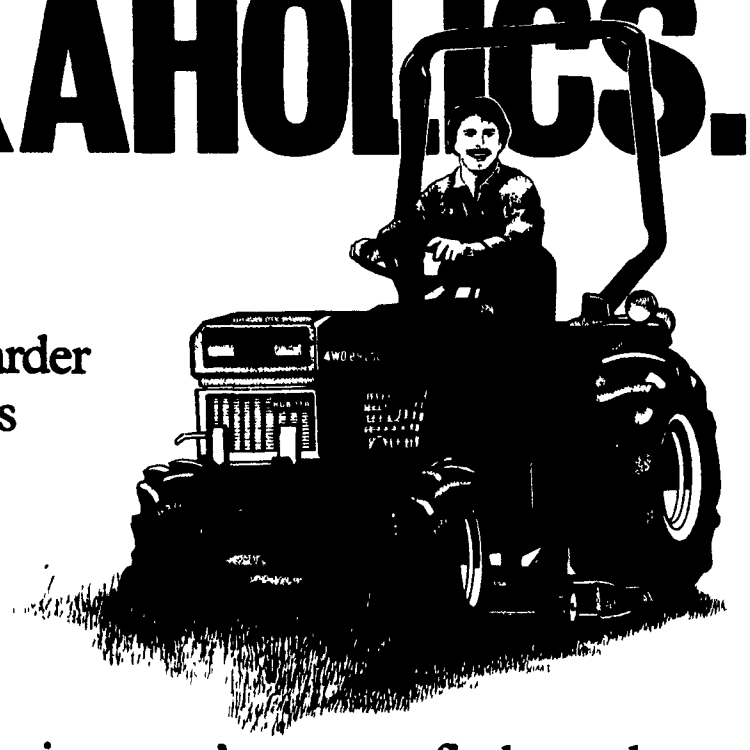
Combine first four ingredients in a medium bowl, stirring well with a wire whisk. Set vinegar mixture aside.

Trim large leaves from broccoli. Remove flowerets and reserve for another use. Remove tough ends of lower stalks and discard. Wash remaining stalks, cut diagonally into ½ -inch slices.

Add 2 cups broccoli slices to vinegar mixture; toss gently to coat. Reserve any remaining slices for another use. Cover coated broccoli slices and chill 3 hours.

To serve, place broccoli on a red cabbage-lined serving plate. Garnish with dill and pimiento if desired. Yield: 8 appetizer servings.

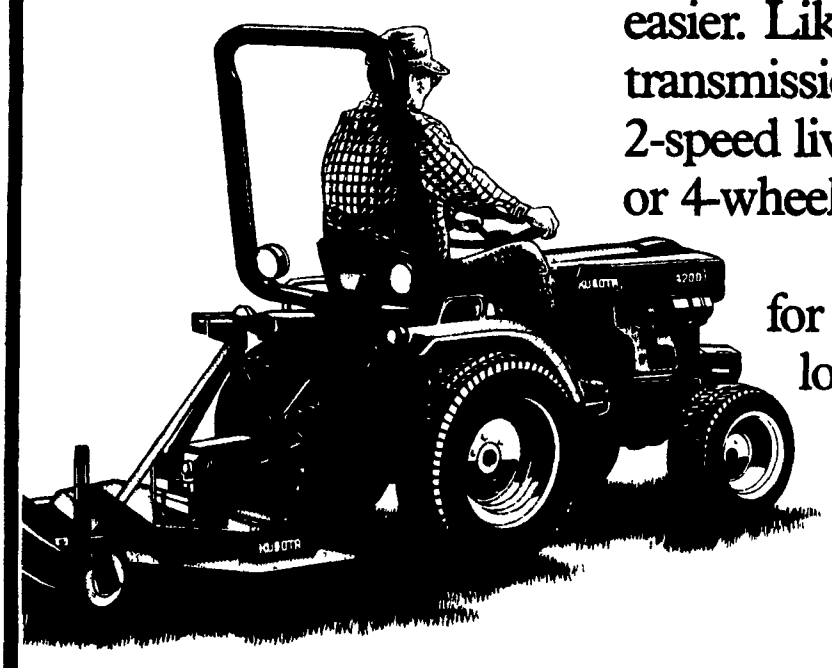
WORKAHOLICS.



Nothing works harder than a Kubota B-Series tractor. And there are ten different B-Series models, ranging from 12 to 22.5 horsepower.

With that much variety, you're sure to find one that meets your needs. Plowing, spraying, hauling, tilling, mowing and more. There's a Kubota just right for the job.

You can also choose features to make the work go easier. Like a hydrostatic transmission, 3-point hitch, 2-speed live mid or rear PTO or 4-wheel drive.



So if you're looking for a hard worker, look no further than a Kubota B-Series tractor.

Farm Women

Lancaster Society 1

Lancaster Society of Farm Women #1 met on October 1, at Dorothy Hollinger's home.

Devotions were by Mabel Ristenbatt who read Psalm 8 and prayer followed by Pledge of Allegiance and the Lord's Prayer.

Roll call was answered by 23 members and one guest by telling memories of Mt. Gretna.

Dues were collected and tickets were given for November 5 County Convention.

One new member, Ruth Huber, was installed into our society by Viola Wolf.

The officers for next year are Viola Wolf, president; Julia Zohn, vice president; Martha Jane Brubaker, treasurer; Arline Widders, secretary; and Margaret Beecher, corresponding secretary.

The speaker, Jack Bitner from Mt. Gretna, is the historian for Mt. Gretna and gave us interesting facts about Mt. Gretna and showed us authentic slides.

In 1884 the park was built, in 1888 the fountain was built and is still there. The skating rink is the oldest building. The narrow gauge railroad was built by Mr. Coleman in 1889.

Lancaster Society 34

Lancaster Farm Women Society #34 held their meeting October 17 at the home of Deb Mellinger with Diane Herr as co-hostess. Mrs. Debbie Strickler from Lititz gave a cooking demonstration from appetizers to desserts using different ingredients and ways to serve the dishes. The best part was the members enjoyed eating the delicious food.

Officers elected for next year will be installed at a later date. County Convention is November 5 at the Farm and Home Center.

Contributions were given to the Solanco FFA and 4-H meat judging team for their trip to Kansas City in November. Two members, Carol Groff and Gayle Hershberger became new mothers in September, each having a son added to their family.

The chance off was won by Joyce Sammuelson. The next meeting will be November 21 at the home of Melody Krantz with Gayle Hershberger as co-hostess. Community Awareness will be the program. The thought of the month is "Great thoughts come from the heart."

Berks Society 1

Nineteen members of Berks County Group 1 held their monthly meeting on October 12, at the Oley Valley Inn.

President Agnes Noll conducted the business meeting and new officers were elected.

The group reported on the baked goods sale they held for three days at the Reading Fair.

Next month's meeting will be held on November 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Evelyn Heacock, Boyertown R.D. 1. Members are asked to bring their favorite holiday dish.

Lancaster Society 20

Lancaster Farm Women #20 met on Thursday, October 6, at the home of Barbara Stone with Dorothy Shirk as co-hostess. Anna Mary Groff conducted the business meeting. Members answered the roll call by telling how many Halloween'ers each one expected. The committee to prepare the books for Society #20 for 1989 will meet with Mary Shirk.

Guest speaker was Frances Fred who spoke on Legislation. She spoke about the solid waste and said it would be quite expensive to do the recycling. They could recycle tin cans, bottles, aluminum articles and other types but each article would need to be kept separate, however, there would have to be new standards for this solid waste disposal. She also spoke of drug abuse and how it is important to crack down on the pushers as some are giving it to small children to deliver so they can't be prosecuted.

Berks Society 6

The September meeting of Berks County Farm Women Group #6 was held at the home of Sue Koch. A short program was given by alternate county dairy princess, Linda Latshaw, which included a skit and food presentation.

A short business meeting was held.

Members are invited to the 10th Anniversary of group #12, on November 3 at the Shartlesville Grange.

Fourteen women attended the annual county convention. A member of our group and her family (Roger and Dorothy Wagner and children) were elected Berks County Farm Family.

Bingo will be November 10 at Berks Heim.

The next meeting will be held at Nicks Chat-a-While at 7:30 p.m.

Berks Society 5

The Berks County Society of Farm Women Group 5 stepped out Friday, October 8, with their favorite fellows. Fifteen members and their gentlemen met at the Summit View Restaurant for an evening of fine food and good company. Each of the men received a hand made wooden duck tie tack.

President Carol Stoudt conducted a short business meeting. She read an invitation from Group 12 at attend their anniversary party to be held on November 3. Plans were made for Group 5 members to attend.

The November 15 meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Moyer. Lisa Layser will demonstrate holiday cake decorating.

Berks County Farm Women

Berks County Farm Women held their annual County Convention on October 1 at the Berks County Agricultural Center.

One hundred thirty members and guests were present.

Berks County Dairy Princess, Tammy Balthaser, was on hand to promote dairy products.

Joni Naugle from "Make A Wish Foundation" explained their program.

Lisa Geschwindt, a ninth grader from Hamburg Area School District represented the 4-H.

New officers include: Janet Schlegel of Boyertown R#1, president; Judy Swope of Bethel R#!, vice president; Joyce Schott of Bethel R#1, secretary.

Awards were given out for attendance, scrapbook, safety programs, and youth projects.

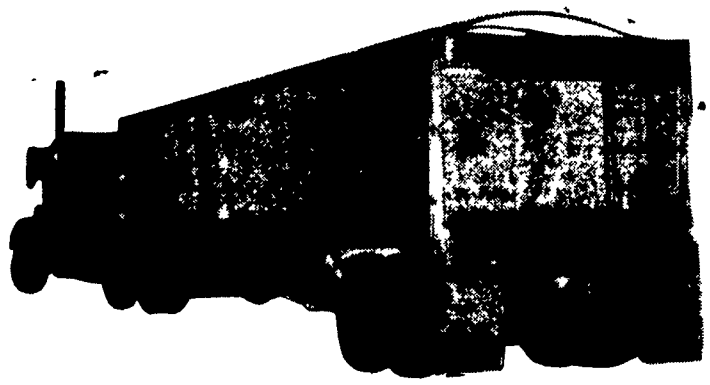
REDESIGNED 1989 TIMPTE GRAIN HOPPER



Got Grain? Then get the trailer that is Timpte tough... the Super Hopper. It's not only built to take it...it's also built to cut fuel costs. The Super Hopper is lightweight and aerodynamically designed to reduce wind drag. When there's grain to be hauled, Timpte does the haulin' best and pulls a lot easier than the rest.

CONSTRUCTED FOR YEARS OF MAINTENANCE-FREE SERVICE.

You'll get more out of an Eby aluminum grain body. Lightweight and rugged aluminum provides rigid, fuel-efficient support to fill your grain hauling needs

Eby packs years of experience, workmanship and performance into every aluminum body it manufactures And special Eby options let you customize your body to your individual operation Available in standard lengths, each unit is designed to provide you with an investment in durable performance and practical economy

Look over these outstanding features.

- Less weight. Eby aluminum bodies weigh up to 30% less than comparable steel and wood construction.
- Less maintenance. Aluminum construction won't rust or rot—never needs painting
- Long-life durability. Heavy-duty structural components and hollow-tube frame combine with aluminum floor and sides to stand up to years of hard work.

Farm Toy Show Slated For November

Lancaster — The Penn-Jersey Farm Equipment Dealers Annual Management Conference and Trade Show will be held at Sheraton Lancaster Golf Resort, in Lancaster, Pa.

This year, the Farm Equipment Dealers will start the convention with a Farm Toy Show, Sale and Public Auction. The show and sale will be held Saturday, November 12 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The auction will start at 5:30 p.m. Numerous equipment dealers and dealers that sell toys will be exhibiting their merchandise and limited edition serial number toys.

Some of the scarce farm toys of the 40s and 50s will be offered for sale. They are very valuable and highly prized toys. Beside the sale tables, many show toys will be on display. Early John Deere toys will be displayed.

The Farm Equipment Dealers Management sessions start Sunday, November 13 and will end Tuesday night, November 15 with their annual banquet and entertainment.

For more information, please call Art Smith at Penn-Jersey Farm & Power Equipment Dealers Association, Harrisburg, Pa. 717/545-2381, or 800/932-0607.

30 YEARS AGO
THIS WEEK

-Penn University's meat judging team finished 17th in the American Royal intercollegiate meat judging contest Oct. 21, in Kansas City. Winning team in the 18 college and university field as Oklahoma State University's squad which had 2nd, 3rd, and 4th high individual judges in the match.

-Approximately 163 non-posted livestock auction markets in the 11 northeastern states under the jurisdiction of the Lancaster office of the USDA Agriculture Market Service, livestock division, will be place under the division's jurisdiction in coming weeks, pursuant to provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act, according to K. F. Grissel, district administrator of the act.

-The fifteenth annual New Holland Sales Stables Dairy Show and Sale resulted in average bids of $582 per cow for the first 20 cows exhibited in the all-day Wednesday affair, according to John Gingrich, auction manager.

-The 1958 Lancaster County 4-H Capon Club round-up Tuesday attracted a total of 27 entries of two birds each to the annual event sponsored by Lancaster Kiwanis International Club.

Eleven year-old Carolyn Wilson, Bareville RD1, won first place in overall project score, based on the final placing of her dressed cirds, records books and project management.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson scored a total of 99.25 points of a possible 100 to nudge David Lapp, also Bareville RD1, for the total project honors.

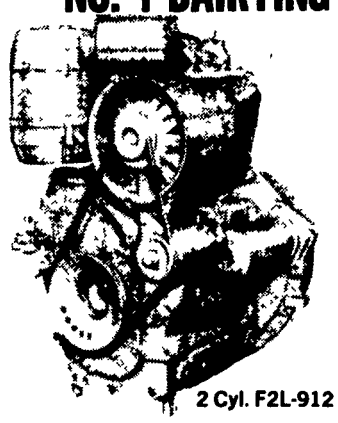
NO. 1 DAIRYING DIESEL



2 Cyl. F2L-912

KHD DEUTZ

Since 1968 F2L-912 diesels have earned the reputation as the most reliable diesel. Don't settle for less.

EASIER STARTING: Heavy flywheel provides easy starting. No electric heater plugs.

QUIETER: Runs quieter than most water cooled diesels. Very quiet exhaust.

Continuous Duty Rating:
26.5 HP @ 1800 RPM

Fewer repair parts than comparable three-cylinder diesels - cheaper to overhaul.

It has direct injection, lube oil cooling, and oil cooled pistons. This engine has proven to survive the extreme heat of a heavy load in a small engine house better than any other engine.

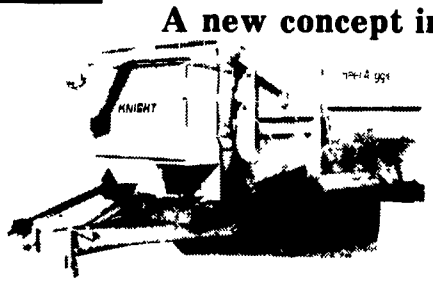
KNIGHT
Reel Auggie
2000 Series
A new concept in TMR Mixers



The Mixer/Blender/Feeder that handles your TMR ingredients including long stem hay. Pictured is the RA2250.

Reel Auggie Mixing Chamber
The reel turns slowly and gently lifts material into the two blending augers. The lower auger is notched and moves the material forward. The upper auger, which moves the material rearward, features replaceable knives which assist the blending of long baled hay or other tough roughage materials.

Advantages of the Reel Auggie Design
*Blending long hay, other roughages, and by-product materials.
*Reduced mixing time with lower horsepower requirements.
*Reduced material breakdown, fluffier material consistency and faster, more even unloading.
*Power chute optional in tow and truck mount applications.

CASE IH 60 SHREDDER IN STOCK

WHY NOT OWN A TWO SEASON MACHINE...

Make It A Summertime Mowing Machine & In The Fall Use It To Get Rid Of Crop Residue In A Hurry!

Use a Case International shredder to fine-shread heavy, tough cotton, corn or sorghum stalks to speed decomposition, ease your tillage, planting and cultivating work. They're also useful for clipping pastures, shredding weeds, tall grass, or brush. And they actually require less power to operate because knives are spiral-mounted around the rotor.

- 170" wide.
- Shatter-shear type knives can be reversed to match the job; blunt edge shatters stalks completely.
- Wheels easily adjust up or down for cutting height, in and out to match row spacings; endwise transport for 170" model.
- Safety features: full shielded drives, gear case, extended end sheets; front-mounted curtain.
- 1000 RPM PTO

TORQUE AMPLIFIERS & CLUTCHES

Over the past 8 years, we have sold thousands of T.A.'s to satisfied customers across the U.S. Some of our best customers are I.H. Dealers.
We do complete job or center housing while you wait or will sell you the parts.
Our prices on T.A.'s with the Dana Sprag, are now $645.00 with a 2 year warranty.
We also have units and parts available to rebuild old style T.A.'s, including Ramp & carrier sets for $300.00

Clutches, Pressure Plates PTO Drives & Water Pumps

We have clutches available for most all IH tractors; including many heavier than original. We also have clutches for many other brands.
- Compare Our Prices -
All clutches & T.A.'s will ship U.P.S. and are sold on an exchange basis. Core charges Apply.

QUALITY USED PARTS

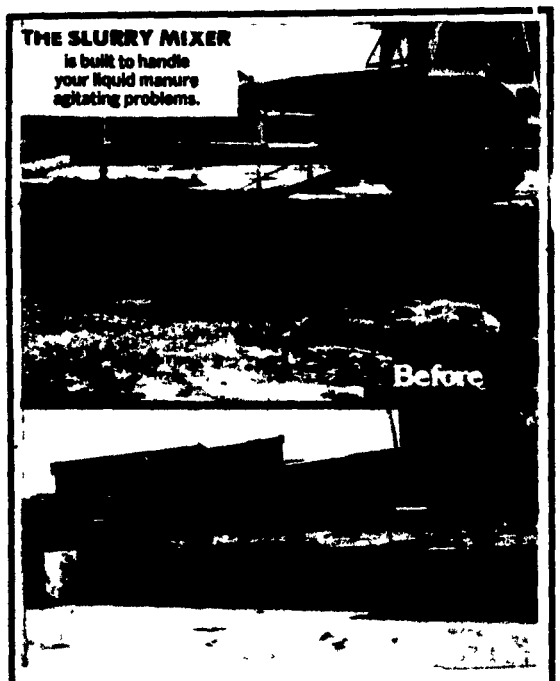
is built to handle your liquid manure agitating problems.



This 3 point hitch Slurry Mixer's large 22" propellor produces a strong undercurrent that moves liquids, floating chunks of crust, weeds, bedding and dried manure into the propellor that chops, mixes and blends your manure into an even liquid Slurry.

Priced at $2,285

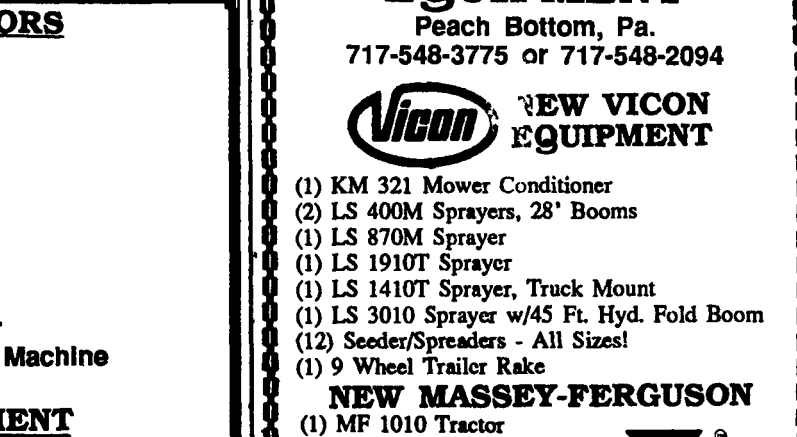
NEW IDEA

MOVE MOUNTAINS WITHOUT MOVING A FOOT.



Case Uni-Loader® skid steers not only out dig, out lift, out carry and out load most others they also take a big load off your feet That's because speed, direction and all loader functions are controlled by two hand levers You can maneuver easier and work faster There are other advantages too self-leveling loaders, simple external chain-tension adjustment, separate hydraulic and chain/sprocket oil systems reduce maintenance and downtime Let your hands do the working with a Case Uni-Loader skid steer the easy way to get a handle on tough chores

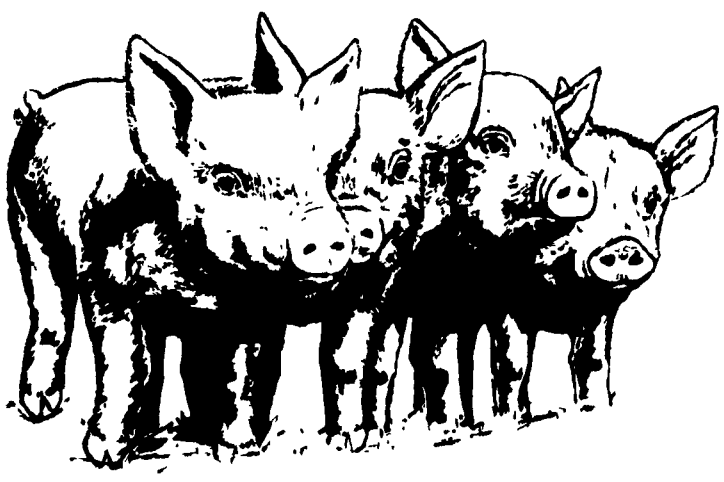
Give Your Pigs A Headstart To Market.



There's an old saying that goes, "well begun is half done." Those are words to remember if you want to get the most for your pigs come market time. Something else to remember is the Master Mix line of starter feeds: Crate-Mate, Premawean and Premapig.

Crate-Mate is the sow replacer that gets even your smallest runts and orphans off to a healthy, profitable start. And Premawean/Premapig is the two phase program that gets your pigs in and out of the nursery with the fastest, leanest gains in the business.

Talk to your Master Mix dealer today. Because if you want to give your pigs a healthy headstart to market, you'll want to give them the Master Mix line of starter feeds.

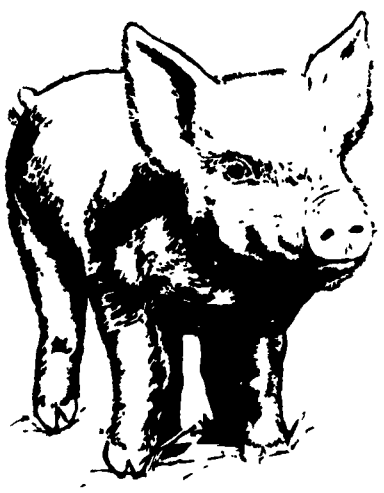
This Little Piggy Went To Market.



If you're looking to increase your operation's profits, getting runts and orphaned pigs to market is a whole lot better than the alternative. And thanks to Crate-Mate, the pelleted sow replacer from Master Mix, little guys like this can get off to a healthier and potentially more profitable start.

But Crate-Mate does more than just reduce your litter's mortality rate. It can be an integral part of your entire early weaning program. Crate-Mate's special formula allows your pigs to extract more nutrition from the feed, for faster and more efficient gains. And the quicker they get into the nursery, the faster you realize your profits.

If you're looking to increase the efficiency of your early weaning program, talk to your Master Mix dealer. Because when it comes to getting little piggies to market, nothing works like Crate-Mate.

York Beef Champ Sets County Record

BY JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

A 1220-pound Chianina-Angus crossbred earned the judge's nod for grand champion of the York County 4-H Beef Roundup, then set a new county beef roundup sale price to boost the bank account of owner Shawn Waltimyer.

"Winchester," Shawn Waltimyer's Chianina-Angus champion steer at the York 4-H roundup, set a new county sale record at $3.20 per pound. With Waltimyer and his 1220-pound champion are the buyers, Bill Campbell and Lynn Gromling, representing Hoss's Steak and Seafood House. Waltimyer also received a revolving trophy from York Farm Credit.

As champion exhibitor, 11-year-old Waltimyer was first into the roundup auction ring Monday evening at host Weikert's Buying Station. Crowd enthusiasm ran high as the bidding neared, equalled, and then surpassed last year's $3.00 record.

When auctioneer Harry Bachman finally cracked the gavel to resounding applause, Hoss's Steak and Seafood House had defeated contending Weikert's Buying Station with the final $3.20/pound bid. And, Shawn Waltimyer was mentally tallying how much he could bank after purchasing his next year's project.

This was the second champion title of the season taken by the leggy "Winchester," with the roundup honors replaying Waltimyer's win at the recent York Fair. "Winchester" was bred by Waltimyer's grandfather, Donald Walter. Waltimyer is the son of Harley and Carol Felton, Airville R2, and sixth grade student at Clearview School.

York 4-H Beef club's treasury was fattened considerably with Hoss's Steak and Seafood's $200 bid on a cake baked and decorated by Lois Rankin. From left are Bill Campbell representing Hoss's Steak and Seafood, Cathy Shive, Sue Eisenhour, and cake donor Lois Rankin.

Reserve champion steer ribbons went to 15-year-old Robin Shive, exhibiting her purebred Angus entry, "Cruz."

Second in the auction arena, the 1235-pound steer commanded a

Spirited Bidding For York Lamb Champ

BY JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

THOMASVILLE — Matt Trostle was named grand champion exhibitorat the York 4-H lamb roundup Sunday, held at Weikert's Buying Station, Thomasville.

"Buckwheat," Trostle's homebred Hampshire crossed wether, weighed in at 125 pounds and was first through the auction ring in the sale which followed on Monday evening. Spirited bidding finally halted at the $2.50/pound mark, with the champion going to Willie the Butcher, Stauffer's of Kissel Hill, Lititz.

It was the first champion win for the nine-year-old Trostle, exhibiting market lambs in his second season of 4-H competition. In September, Buckwheat took the reserve place in the York Fair 4-H market lamb runoffs.

Offering no secret tips for winning, Trostle explained that he exercised his lambs by walking them in the fields, each day after his fourth grade classes at Ore Valley Elementary School. He is the son of Ronald and Yvonne Trostle, Red Lion R3.

Amy Shaffer's natural-colored wether, "Oreo," claimed the reserve champion honors in the roundup, earning her the second slot in the popular roundup.

Bidding for the 105-pound "Oreo" climbed to $1.50/pound, with the winning nod going to Lau's Store, East Berlin.

The reserve win was a first for the 13-year-old, Spring Grove Intermediate School seventh grader. Amy's lamb entry was honored by the Donna and Roy Shaffer family, of East Berlin R1. Daily exercising for the 4-H project included having the lamb jump hurdles for muscle development.

Champion of the lightweight class was the 100-pound lamb entry of Cindy Dehoff, Glen Rock. Dr. Jerry Stinson placed the winning bid of $1.05/pound.

Reserve lightweight champion went to Mindy Albright, Glen Rock. Her 80-pound lamb sold for $1.00/pound to Sam's Oak Repairs.

Matt Trostle, Red Lion, also exhibited the reserve champion heavyweight. Sterner's Custom Butchering was the successful buyer, at $1.20/pound.

Thomasville 4-H'er Adam Sellers claimed the mediumweight reserve champion honors, with his 105-pound lamb, which sold for $1.10 to Willie the Butcher.

The total 38 lambs exhibited in the annual roundup and auction averaged the 4-H'ers $1.15/pound with the champion, and $1.04 without. Average lamb weight, including the champion, was 102.2 pound, and 101.53 pounds excluding the champion.

Several buyers made multiple purchases in the lamb sale. Buyers in addition to those purchasing the show and class champions included: First National Reserve, Texas, Miller's Asphalt, Barry Eberly, Dale Myers, Agway Farm Center York, Susie Farmer, John Kemper, Carla Shermyer, Senft's Furniture, Louis Lyon-Lancaster Stockyards, Glen Rock State Bank, Geary Huntsberger, Godfrey Brothers, Alma Stahl, James Fitzgerald, Harry Nell, Rishel's Landscaping and Irvin Rappoldt.

Matt Trostle and his homebred "Buckwheat," captured grand champion honors at the York 4-H lamb roundup. Willie the Butcher, Stauffer's of Kissel Hill, Lititz, was winning bidder at $2.50 per pound for the 125-pound crossed Hampshire.

Reserve champion exhibitor at the York 4-H lamb roundup was Amy Shaffer and her 105-pound homebred natural entry, "Oreo." The buyer, Lau's Store of East Berlin, bid $1.50 per pound for the reserve winner, and was represented at the roundup sale by Roy Shaffer.

USDA Requires ID On Swine Sold Between States

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Beginning November 14, the U.S. Department of Agriculture will require identification on all swine moving in interstate commerce, making it easier to pinpoint the source of diseased hogs or those with harmful drug or chemical residues.

"This regulation is an important part of our efforts to stop disease and residue violations at the source," said Kenneth A. Gilles, assistant secretary of agriculture for marketing and inspection services. "Once a hog moves in interstate commerce, records will be kept. If there are problems with residues or disease, we can quickly identify the source of the problem."

Gilles also said support for the concept of swine identification has come from the U.S. Congress and the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences. "Professional and trade organization such as the Livestock Conservation Institute, the American Meat Institute, and the National Pork Producers Council have urged USDA to broaden its identification requirements," said Gilles. "Also, consumer groups such as Public Voice for Food and Health Policy have encouraged USDA's efforts at Congressional hearings and in other forums."

The proposal for the rule was published February 3, and USDA received 184 comments. Six expressed unqualified support for the proposal, One was opposed, and 174 offered suggestions for changes.

The rule requires that each hog be identified individually, and provides discretion as to who must apply the identification and when it must be applied.

"Every person who handles swine is responsible for the identification as soon as it moves into interstate commerce," Gilles said. "If the identification is already on the hog, the next person in the chain is only required to make and keep a record of it." However, if there is no identification, Gilles said, that person should refuse to handle the swine or apply the identification. Some acceptable forms of identification include eartags, tatoos and backtags.

The only swine exempt from individual identification are those raised, marketed and sent to slaughter from a farrow (birth) to finish operation. Those hogs, because they are kept together as a group, may be identified by lot. If they are separated, however, individual identification is required.

Under the rule, the records on each hog must be kept for a period of two years. The records must include the serial number or other approved identification appearing on the swine. Those records must be able to establish where and from whom each hog was purchased or obtained. If there is a contamination problem, USDA could locate the source of the problem and work with producers to contain and eliminate the problem.

Packers and others engaged in swine slaughtering operations will be required to maintain records of test swine selected at ante-mortem inspection by FSIS representatives for residue testing. According to Gilles, "This will still ensure that all the information we need to trace swine back through marketing channels is available should a violation be found." If a federally inspected slaughterhouse does not comply with the rule, USDA inspectors could order swine carcasses to be retained at the plant until laboratory tests confirmed the meat's wholesomeness.

Two USDA agencies, the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, responsible for preventing or controlling disease in animals raised for food, and the Food Safety and Inspection Service, responsible for inspecting meat and poultry to ensure safety, were involved in developing the final rule.

Get level tillage with a Case IH disk harrow, and improve chemical incorporation.

One thing that can affect year-end profit is uneven tillage, especially if you incorporate chemicals into your soil.

The financial impact of uneven tillage can hit you four times. First, from the partial loss of poorly distributed chemicals. Second, from the impact of excess chemicals on over-treated crops. Third, by the loss of weed control in under-treated areas. And fourth, through the unfavorable impact of an unlevel seedbed on plant germination and emergence.

But Case IH builds disk harrows that are renowned for uniform, level tillage. Their tough, efficient design and exclusive crimp-center Earth Metal® blades have made them industry leaders in chemical incorporation and seedbed tillage.

Building the right seedbed can affect your profits at harvest time. Look to the implements that can improve your bottom line: Case IH disk harrows. See them at your nearby Case IH dealer.

York Beef Champ

Robin Shive's reserve champion, "Cruz," took second high bid of $1.60 per pound at the York 4-H roundup auction sale. Purchaser of the 1235-pound purebred Angus was R. S. Delp, for R. S. Delp and Sons, Inc., contractors. A trophy for the reserve win was presented by Glen Rock State Bank.

final selling price of $1.60/pound, with contracting firm R.S. Delp and Sons, Inc., offering the winning bid.

"Cruz" was bred at the Gordon and Diana Shive family's Seven Valleys R1 Buffalo Valley Angus farm, and had also claimed the reserve champion title at the York Fair contest.

While Robin admitted she would enjuoy "doing some shopping," she planned to bank her steer earnings in her college-education account. A veteran 4-H beef exhibitor, Robin is a sophomore student at Susquehannock high School.

In the champion heavyweight spot was Jennifer Calderazzo, York. Her 1335-pound winner brought a $1.30/pound bid from buyer Peoples Bank of Glen Rock.

Reserve heavyweight honors went to Mary Godfrey, York, with a 1305-pound steer, selling to York Farm Credit for 81 cents/pound.

Champion lightweight steer was exhibited by Jason Stein, Wrightsville. W.D. Anugs, York, was the buyer at $1.02/pound for the 1140-pound winner.

Sonja Shearer, Abbottstown, earned the reserve champion in the lightweights with her 1105-pound steer, which sold to Richard Beck, Seven Valleys, for 95 cents/pound.

Average price for the 27 steers, including the champion, was $1.02, while weights averaged 1202.2 pounds. Excluding the champion, average price on 26 steers was 91 cents, and average weight was 1200.2 pounds.

Auctioning a cake saluting the York 4-H Beef Club is a tradition of several years at this annual roundup sale. Lois Rankin, Abbottstown, again baked and donated the artfully-decorated sheet cake, put up for bids to help boost the club's treasury.

Champion buyer Hoss's Steak and Seafood also laid claim to the club cake, holding out through the rounds of contender bids to win the tasty prize for $200.

Four beef club young women received awards for outstanding showmanship in their age category division. Showman winners were Cathy Shive, 15-19 years age group; Robin Shive, 13-14 years; Jennifer Calderazzo, 11-12; and Suzanne Bishard, 8-10 years.

Additional buyers include Ellar Fillar, Willie the Butcher — Stauffer's of Kissel Hill, Weikert's Buying Station, Bishard's Insurance, Hanover Agway, Ben Druck Door Company, Hoke Mills, James Bailey, Miller Asphalt, Round Hill Foods, Dr. Joseph Calderazzo, Godfrey Brothers, Harry Shaffer, Delbert Hake, and Barry's Food Market.

Sheepberry Farms Wins Champion Fleece Honors

LEBANON — John & Lynn Zerphey, owners of Sheepberry Farms in Lebanon County received champion and reserved champion sheep fleeces from the 1988 York Interstate Fair. This was the first time the Zerphey's entered wool at the York Fair and only the second time ever showing fleeces. The champion fleece was produced by a yearling Black Border Leicester ewe, called Ewe-nit. Her wool was very black with a high luster and soft to touch and a long staple.

The reserve champion fleece was grown by another Black Border Leicester ewe, called Ewe-nique, who is now four years old. Her fleece was a charcoal gray.

The Zerphey's also showed two white fleeces, Suffolk cross ewes, receiving a second and third place.

Many of the sheep fleeces are sold to hand spinners or used by the Zerpheys in hand weaving and knitting crafts. They began raising sheep in 1985 just as a hobby and to keep the lawn short, but the hobby has since grown to interest in the fiber arts and helping to promote the sheep & wool industry by participating in sheep-to-shawl contests and demonstrations.

Swine Sale

BEAVERTOWN (York) — RPM Farms recently held their annual fall sale, which brought in $49,415 for 183 head. The top-selling boar was a Yorkshire, which sold for $1,075 to Wayne Sutton of LaGrange, N.C.

The top-selling Yorkshire bred gilt sold for $485. The gilt was purchased by Tom Sharp of Ehrata, Pa., who also purchased the top-selling Landrace bred gilt for $510. The highest-selling Landrace boar went for $300 to Peter Michisk of Flemington, N.J.

The auctioneer was Harry Bachman of Annville, Pa., and was attended by pork producers from five states. The next sale is scheduled for January 13, 1989.

Franklin Co. Steer Sells For $3.70

BY BONNIE BRECHBILL
Franklin Co. Correspondent

GREENCASTLE — A capacity crowd watched the Franklin County 4-H Baby Beef Sale October 15 at the Greencastle Livestock Auction. Many in the crowd did more than watch, as bidding proceeded briskly on the 27 project steers and three companion steers raised by club members.

Topping the sale was Darren Meyer's 1240 pound Grand Champion steer. The medium heavyweight was purchased by Hoss's Steak and Seafood Restaurant of Chambersburg for $3.70 per pound. Darren, 16, is the son of Gary and Elaine Meyers of Greencastle, and serves as the Beef Club's treasurer.

Hoss's Steak and Seafood Restaurant of Chambersburg purchased the 1240-pound Grand Champion steer, owned by Darren Meyers, for $3.70 per pound. Pictured are Eric Brinn, front; Darren, Alan Sprenkle, director of Hoss's Steak and Seafood; and Brian Brinn, head manager of the Chambersburg Restaurant.

The next steer into the ring was Nicole Lebo's 1330 pound Reserve Grand Champion steer. Shaw Packing of Newry bid $2.50 for the medium heavyweight steer. Nicole, 15, is the daughter of Leon and Judy Lebo of Greencastle.

The champion heavyweight steer, owned by Donnie Sheiss of Chambersburg, sold to Hagerstown Block Company for $1.25 per pound. Hagerstown Block Company donated the 1285 pound steer to the Union Rescue Mission of Hagerstown.

Trina Esleman's champion light heavyweight sold to ELM Garage of Greencastle for $1.30 per pound. Trina is the club's secretary and lives in Greencastle.

The Antrim House Restaurant of Greencastle purchased Jody Hawbaker's 1130 pound champion mediumweight steer for $1.35 a pound.

The champion light weight steer, a 1080 pound animal owned by Holly McLaughlin of Greencastle, sold to Shaw Packing for $1.60 per pound.

Volume buyer of the evening was Shaw Packing, which purchased a total of three steers.

The sale averaged $1.45 per pound, including the three companion steers. Average weight was 1218 per animal.

Buyers of the Grand and Reserve Grand Champion steers received banners donated by the 4-H'ers who won those honors. Trophies given to buyers of the weight class champions were donated by the Pennsylvania Beef Council.

The club expressed appreciation for Jeff Craig, owner of Greencastle Livestock Auction, for the use of his facilities for their show and sale. Lyle Reed, auctioneer, was also recognized.

The club's Market Steer show was held earlier in the day, with Dr. John Comerford, Beef Specialist at Penn State, serving as judge.

Results of the show were:

Salesmen Attend Hoffman Seeds Seminar

LANDISVILLE (Lancaster) — Seed salesmen from the northeast recently attended a Hoffman Seeds sales training seminar. Among those in attendance were Gerald Wine of Westminster, Md.; Roy Book of Ronks, Pa.; Alvin Smoker of Intercourse, Pa.; and Phyllis Gross of Manchester, Pa.

The three-day seminar was held for company sales representatives who achieved certain sales levels of Hoffman/Funk's G-Hybrid product during this past year. Sales representatives were updated on latest agronomic trends, company procedures, customer service, sales methodologies and product characteristics.

Hoffman Seeds markets a variety of farm seed products for Eastern agriculture, including Funk's G-Hybrid corn.

Select Sires Offers 13-Month Calendar

PLAIN CITY, OH — Achieving top results is the goal of all dairy and beef producers. As a genetic partner in the quest for this goal, Select Sires has designed its 1989 breeding and service calendar to honor its successful customers.

The striking, full-color cover depicts the successful producers desktop. The patron proudly displays his champion rosettes and photos of his best producers. These mementos constantly remind him of his success with Select Sires.

Appropriately titled "Top Results Year-Round," the calendar contains seasonal breeding tips to aid the producer in his breeding program. The calendar also aids in the continued use of Select Sires, serving as a record-keeping system for future breeding decisions.

Calendars are available from your local Select Sires representative, respective member cooperatives, or Select Sires headquarters at 11740 U.S. 42, Plain City, OH 43064.

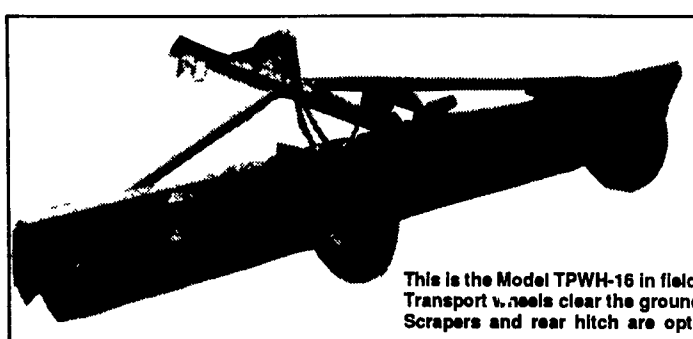
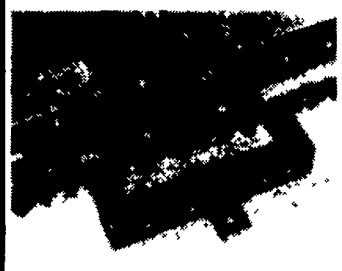
TPW WIDTH-WISE TRANSPORT PULVERIZERS

· As the leading manufacturer of pulverizers, Brillion builds a wide range of single and multiple gang, as well as folding models. Sizes are available from 6' to 32'8", with a variety of roller wheel designs and sizes to meet different soil types and conditions.

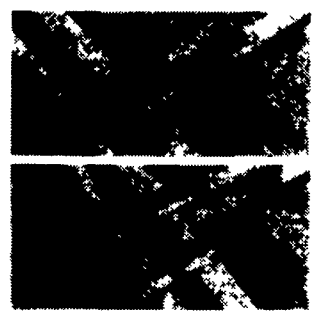


This is the Model TPWH-16 in field position. Transport wheels clear the ground 3" to 4". Scrapers and rear hitch are optional.

The TPW model pulverizer may be transported width-wise and is designed to tow behind other implements, such as field cultivators and disc harrows. The machine is raised from field to transport position, hydraulically, without detaching from other implements.



The optional Rear Hitch Kit (5J-368) straddles the transport cylinder and lock. It is bolted to the main frame. The hitch is very sturdy...designed to pull other tools, including planting equipment behind the TPW. Weight is approximately 110 pounds.



TRANSPORT LOCK

(1) The transport lock forms a "cage" around the hydraulic cylinder to avoid accidental lowering of the pulverizer in transport. (2) In field operation, the lock is opened and the cylinder rod moves freely.

This view shows the Model TPWH-16 (with 20" notched rollers) in transport position. Road clearance between ground and roller wheels is 10-11". Drawbar braces are 3"x2"; the drawbar is 5"x5"x153" long for easy turns. Hose holder and drawbar jack are standard equipment. Clevis hitch has a flat spring holder for easy one-man hook-up.

Massey-Ferguson Announces New Tractor Line

DES MOINES, IOWA — Massey-Ferguson announced today that the McConnell Tractors, Ltd. will manufacture a new series of articulated four-wheel-drive tractors for its dealers in 1989. The tractors will be known as the 5000 series, and will be an upgraded version of the popular M-F 4000 series.

The joint agreement calls for McConnell to manufacture two four-wheel-drive models in the 300- to 400-horsepower range. The tractors will be distributed and supplied exclusively through the Massey-Ferguson dealer network in the U.S. and Canada under the M-F name.

"The 4000 series tractors were extremely well received by dealers and customers alike for their power and reliability," said David Pitt, president and general manager, Massey-Ferguson, North America. "We are pleased that we are able to offer this line of large four-wheel-drive tractors again as part of our commitment to supply our dealers and customers with a full line of reliable products to meet their farming needs. In a little over a year, Massey-Ferguson has introduced 19 new tractor models and 39 new implements and hay tools."

Massey-Ferguson dealers will continue to supply parts and service for the 4000 series, according to Pitt.

J. Ward McConnell, Jr., chairman of McConnell Tractors, Ltd., said the company will manufacture the 5000 series in a new plant in Kinston, North Carolina. McConnell stated the 5000 series tractors could be available for sale as early as mid-1989.

Massey-Ferguson, a wholly-owned business of Toronto-based Varity Corporation, supplies farm tractors and implements to a global market.

A series of articulated four-wheel-drive tractors will be offered by Massey-Ferguson in mid 1989. The series will feature two models in the 300- to 400-horsepower range.

Farm Credit Promotes York County Staffer

YORK — William P. O'Brien has been promoted to the position of senior loan officer for the York Farm Credit Service, according to James K. Sigler, vice president. In this position he will service farmer members of Farm Credit in York County.

O'Brien, a native of Falls Church, Va., attended Virginia Poly Technic Institute & State University and graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree in agricultural economics. Prior to joining York Farm Credit Service he was employed by the Farm Credit Service of North Central Michigan and Staunton Farm Credit Service in the capacity of loan officer.

William P. O'Brien

The York Farm Credit Service presently provides more than $65 million in long term Land Bank loans to 1,000 borrowers and $38 million in short term Production Credit Association loans to 775 borrowers in South Central Pennsylvania.

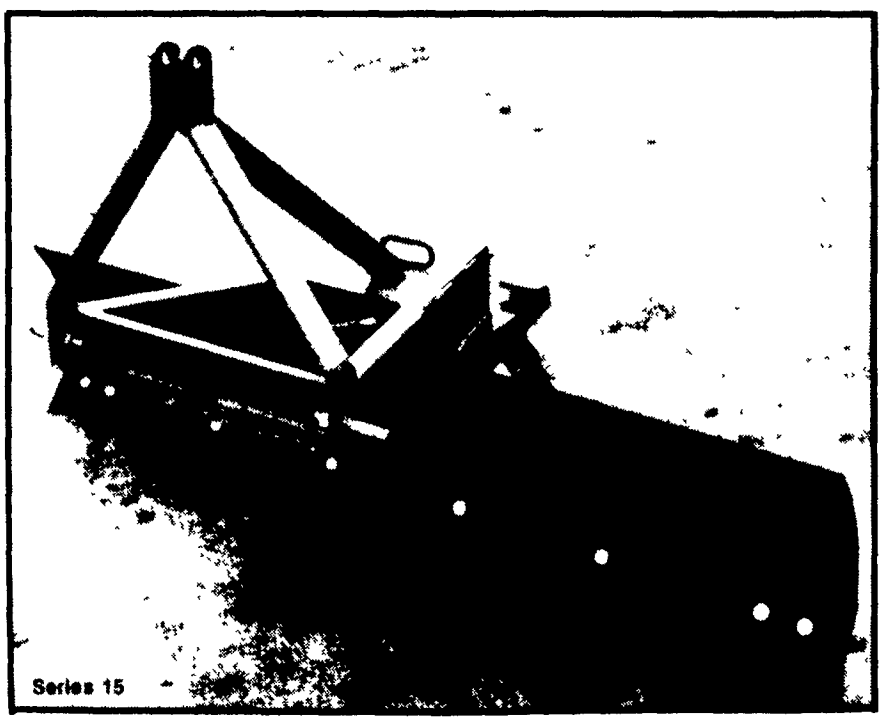
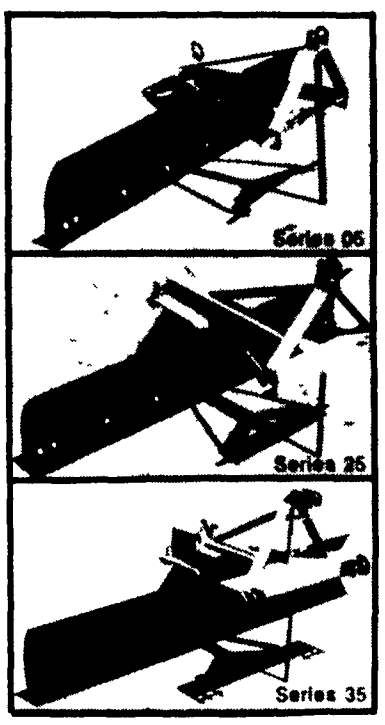
LAND PRIDE
REAR BLADES





The four series of Land Pride Rear Blades provide you with a choice of 10 different models. Whether it's a hobby blade for a 20 horsepower tractor or a heavy-duty model with angle, tilt and offset, you'll find a Land Pride blade to match your tractor — and your job.

Quality designs and rugged construction are evident throughout the rear blade line. Each blade has a heavy-duty rolled moldboard to keep material flowing smoothly. And all Land Pride blades have replaceable, high-carbon, heat-treated cutting edges. They are reversible on the 15, 25, and 35 series for an even longer life.

Land Pride Rear Blades are available with a full range of options, including skid shoes, side plates, gauge wheels, and — on the 35 series — a hydraulic cylinder to adjust offset on-the-go.

Rear Blade Features:

- Heavy-duty rolled moldboards
- Replaceable, high-carbon, heat-treated cutting edges; 3/8"x3" on 05 series, ½" x 6" on 15, 25, and 35 series
- Horsepower ratings from 20 to 65
- Angle adjustments on all models; tilt and offset on 35 series
- Full range of options

SLICK CONCRETE CAN BE ROUGHENED

SCABBLING is an effective way to avoid unnecessary losses of cattle. The SCABBLER makes bands about two inches wide approximately 1/8" to 3/16 in. depth. This gives sufficient area for good footing while allowing you to scrape the smooth surface as before. It is near enough to the surface to give your cows full advantage of the roughness and deep enough to remain effective for years. It greatly aids in heat detection.

And the good news is that it is reasonably priced. You have the choice of doing it yourself or having us do it for you. We offer service right to your door. Call us for more details.
